HIGH SCHOOL DAYS
Our Bridge to the Future

. . . PRESENTED BY . . . .

The Austinian

AUSTIN HIGH SCHOOL
1956 . . . Austin, Minnesota

We Built a Bridge

Each spring graduation, the illusive dream which sometimes seems so unattainable, finally becomes a reality for the seniors of Austin High School. Yet, as the moment approaches, we hesitate and begin to look back instead of always forward. We recall our varied high school days with their emphasis on the personal, social, and vocational aspects of living.

Among our many lasting memories as graduating seniors are the perennial highlights of homecoming, tournaments, mixers, and class elections. But also among our cherished memories are the many hours spent on homework, special themes, confidential chats with counselors, ancient half lockers, the mother-daughter tea, the athletic banquet, and the annual Christmas song fest.

Yes, as we reflect on our school careers, we realize that our days at Austin High School were not in vain. For it was then we were preparing and paving our way to the future. The bridge that will link yesterday's lessons with tomorrow's affairs. With our bridge so aptly built, we stand ready to assume our adult responsibilities; confident that we can cope with any of the situations which accompany maturity.

HARMONIZING DURING ONE of their many appearances are the talented Silhouettes, Thea Miller, Betsey Christianson, Bonnie Hanson, Janet Hanson, Joan Nasland, Gwen Colescott, Mary Swenson, Shan Lillquist, and Maureece Butler.

Highlights On Our Bridge...

HUDDLING HAPPILY IN ANTICIPATION of another victory are Dee McDermott, Jane Gannon, Darwin Olson, Herb Peterson, Bonnie Raasch, Sandra Anderson, Jean Nasland, Mary Swenson.

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, I present AHS royalty," Joyce Grant, Charlotte Detwiler, Martha Moe, Bill Dunlap, Peggy McLaughlin, Jan Folkestad.

THE PAST...

Work and Fun

As we seniors have journeyed through high school, we have crossed our bridge to the future. During this crossing we have been planning and working for that moment which is now here — Commencement.

As we approach the end of our high school career, we reminisce with mixed feelings of relief and regret. Our academic and social education has been both work and fun. And now we must take that big step — the step off the bridge.

THE FUTURE...

What and Where

Now at the end of our bridge, the big question in the minds of the seniors is what direction to take when we step off that bridge.

Those who have not yet decided what to do confer with the counselors about their problem. The students at the lower left studying for the College Board Examinations have made their decision to attend college. Many other students will be working; they will hold various jobs such as clerking and farming. Regardless of the direction we go, this step must be taken.

Our Education Is In Their Hands...

In crossing the bridge of high school life which spans six years, we need constant guidance. Ever alert to our needs are the administration and faculty. Our school could not run smoothly without them for they are the ones who organize and execute the many facets of school life which make us mature, educated personalities.

Academic or Vocational Goal can be achieved

While European Exchange Students attending Austin High School have given us a better understanding of International problems, they have also made us more keenly conscious of the unique nature of our particular school system. Austin High School students have become increasingly aware of their untold opportunities and benefits. A student may receive an education so complete that he can secure a job immediately after graduation. Also, if an individual chooses, he may select his subjects from the variety of academic courses offered. These will provide a suitable background for further education in any college. By combining these two, a student can later work his way through college.

Although Austin High School is already outstanding, the administration and faculty constantly plan for further educational improvements; and as our enrollment continues to increase, they will find time to help each student with his or her individual problems. We students appreciate and respect these people because we know that without their help and understanding, an education would be almost impossible to obtain.

IN MEMORIAM...

"The Master is come, and calleth for thee. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you."

Last February death cast a somber shadow over Austin High school and took from us three of our faculty members, Mrs. Elmer Requa, Mr. A. O. Bentrude and Mr. Nathaniel Goudy.

Each filled a particular place that since has not been quite the same. In their years of teaching they gave us not only the basic fundamentals of subject matter, but also those intangibles which make life more meaningful, more worthwhile.

To these teachers — their words, their deeds, their lives — we of Austin High school pay sincere tribute.

L. R. GILLETT: English 9.

LEONARD GOICK: comptometry, typing.

NATHANIEL J. GOUDY: Deceased February 26, 1956. Biology teacher 14 years.

"AND SO-GOODBYE," said Mrs. Blanche Black as she concluded thirty-one years of teaching. Finishing at the end of the first semester Mrs. Black left one of the finest traditions for clear and earnest thought this school has ever known. Mrs. Black instilled in her students a knowledge of math and was an example of hard work and honest living. Her humor never failed; Mrs. Black's wit sparkled daily, making the most difficult problems elementary.

Mrs. Black helped us cross over the bridge from high school to the adult world of higher goals and successes.

Austin High School owes a great debt of gratitude and appreciation to you, Mrs. Black.

HAROLD R. HASTINGS: physical education, director of athletics.

DOROTHY HILL: English 10.

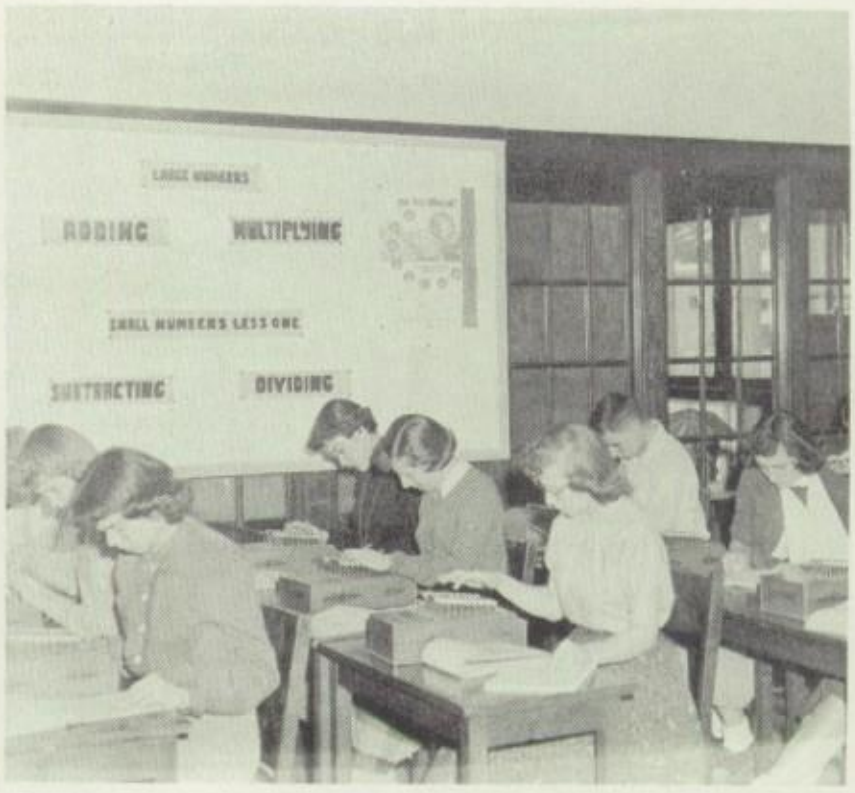
W. C. PUTTMANN: general science 9, Junior High Science Club, basketball, noon hour supervisor.

DONALD D. RITLAND: vocational agriculture, Future Farmers of America.

MARGARET SCARSETH: Latin, Latin Club.

JUST PRESS A BUTTON and science rings a bell as Mr. Puttmann demonstrates to these ninth grade girls, Sharon Whitcomb and Virginia Thompson.

"WILL WE EVER FIND OUR WAY?" wonder Sue Hastings, Jim Kautz, and Mary Stevens, seventh graders as they become acquainted with AHS.



STRONG, NIMBLE FINGERS are an asset in comptometry whether a student is adding, subtracting, multiplying, or dividing.

THE MADONNA AND CHILD were the central background figures for the annual Christmas Festival. Applying the final touches to the setting are LaDonna Richards and Dianne Warrington, two of the many students who contributed their talents to make the production a success.

THE FINAL BELL RINGS — students depart — some to part-time jobs or their favorite recreation but others will crack the books or practice an instrument.

If You Can't Play a Sport - Be One

The well rounded sports program in Austin High School is designed to include everyone with their special interests and abilities. Highest on the popularity list is basketball, but there are many other sports that are participated in by the greater majority of the school student body. This program begins its developmental phases in grades 7 through 12. This gives the younger enthusiasts three or four years to learn the fundamentals of sport and gain experience in his younger years. Although the sports in Austin lean predominately toward male participation, the girls may take part in cheerleading and G.A.A. activities.

Whether the AHS student participates actively or passively in our sports program, the school places emphasis on sportsmanship and points out that even if you can't play a sport you can be one. For sportsmanship is one of the all-important fundamentals developed while crossing the long bridge leading to a well rounded adult personality.

...Homecoming Victory Triumph of Season

Teamwork, skill, and endurance have been developed in the AHS football team under the able coaching of Art Hass. Although the '55 season proved difficult for the gridiron men, they gained the all-important homecoming victory that was a great boost to school spirit and team morale. This victory over Owatonna not only showed that the boys had the will to win but also the ability to do so. Austin trounced the Indians by a smouldering score of 25-6 before a crowd of 2,500. The strong line and the hard-hitting backs were important factors in the errorless Packer victory.

Another exciting game on the AHS agenda was the Albert Lea-Austin tangle that ended with the Tigers edging out the Packers by one point with a score of 14-13.

Despite the fact that '55 was a weak season for the Packers, and overlooking the statistics in the record, we recognize individual performances. Given honorable mention on the All-Conference team were: Ends, Joe Tridle and Duane Sellers, guard - Garth Seavey, center - Bob Knowlton, and backfield men —Bob Mathias and Bill Roach.

THE COACHING STAFF headed by Art Hass and assisted by Hal Cuff and Jim Graven, not only spent grueling hours with the team on the playing field, but also spent much time planning the strategy of the team.

TEAM MANAGER, Ralph Lunde, is a great necessity behind the scenes at both football games and daily practice.

The B-squad football team under the watchful eyes of Coaches Elton Lehrke and Jerome Olson pulled through the season with 3 wins and 4 losses. B-squad training is mainly for the purpose of learning the fundamentals of the sport and gaining experience.

Football calls to the field each year a good crop of boys, all eager to eventually make the A-squad. Forty-five boys turned out for B-squad practice, while over seventy-five turned out for 7th, 8th, and 9th grade football, under the coaching of Gillett, Lewis, Lemmerman, and Qvale.

Spirit Sportsmanship Prevails Throughout Season...

Ove Berven, coach of the AHS basketball team, piloted his squad through another successful year. The boys' spirit and good sportsmanship gave the school a good record as well as a qualified standing in the Big Nine. Co-captain, Gary Tate and Bob Mathias were definite assets to the team and also strengthened the morale of the boys when the spirits seemed to falter. Graduating lettermen are Tom Golden, Dave Ryks, Bill Dunlap, Jon Webber, Wayne Gaughran, Gary Tate and Bob Mathias.

As the conference season ended, we were saddened by the sudden death of our able assistant basketball coach, Nat Goudy. The feelings of the entire school personnel were summed up in the words of Coach Berven. "No matter who the people were - young or old, good or bad - they all liked him and he liked all of them. To me, he was not an assistant coach, but an all-around, top notch co-coach."

Season Review of Big Nine Play

ROCHESTER

Gone was the 25-game winning streak against Big Nine opponents when we lost to the aggressive and hot-shot shooting Rochester quints, 80-61. Although the Packers were having a cold night they refused to give up as evidenced by the twenty points which Mathias alone chalked up.

ALBERT LEA

The Packers won a decisive victory over Albert Lea by beating their traditional rivals 60-45. This gave Austin its ninth consecutive win over the Tigers. The Packers put together balanced scoring, good rebounding, and exceptional floor play for the well deserved victory.

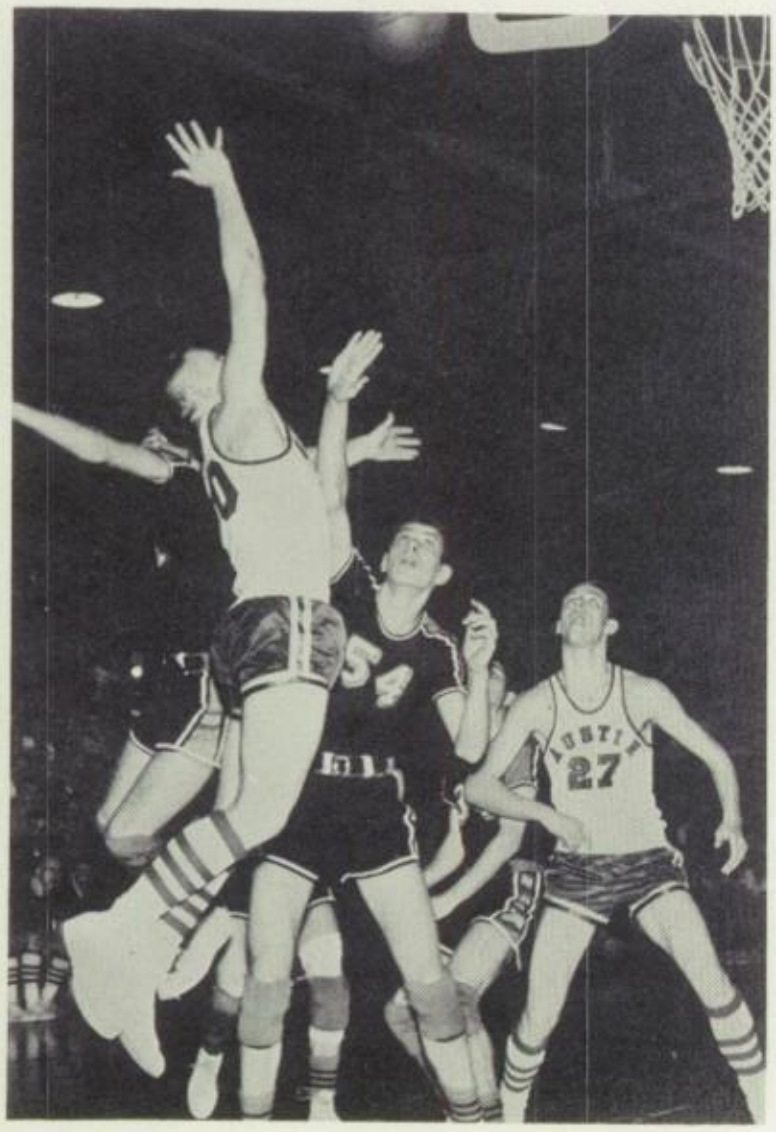
WINONA

Some nifty rebounding and shot blocking by big Wayne Gaughran set the pace for the Winona game when Austin outran the Winhawks, 75-57. The Packers never faltered once they grabbed a 4-0 lead in the early minutes of play.

MANKATO

Mankato nipped Austin 41-36 in an all out stall on the part of the Mankato Scarlets. They stalled for the entire second quarter in an attempt to pull Austin out of zone defense, but their strategy only slowed up the game. The second half saw more action but the scoring was very low.

JUMP SHOOTING UNDER THE BASKET, Bob Mathias attempts another score for Austin as Jon Webber stands ready to assist.



STUDYING THE OPPOSING TEAM MEMBERS, Bob Mathias and Dave Ryks take time out to rest and observe.

OWATONNA

The Packers made a startling comeback in the Big Nine race by defeating the Owatonna Indians, 86-61. The starting guards, Tate and Mathias, performed well under the full court press and Tate kept Jensen to an all season low of 11.

FARIBAULT

The 73-60 win over Faribault gave the Packers their sixth consecutive win on the home floor. The Scarlets had some trouble finding the baskets at the outset of the game, but once they warmed up it was an all out conquest over the frustrated Falcons. Coach Berven cleaned the bench and three of the starters were in double figures.

ROCHESTER

The tense, thrill-jammed second game against Rochester was a fight to the final gun as the Rockets edged the Austin team 73-70. This was the second game the Rockets won over Austin and it was a hard game to lose.

Fouls were the main handicaps in the game as both Gaughran and Webber had excessive fouls. With 50 seconds left the Packers were within one point, but 2 free throws by Miner doomed their hopes.

NORTHFIELD

Getting back into the winning race, the Scarlets trampled Northfield 69-53. Coach Berven started with an all senior squad but by the second half was cleaning the bench. Mathias sparked the scoring pace with 17 points. All the reserves showed good ball handling.

RED WING

The game that decided the Big Nine Conference title was expected to be an exciting one. But the cold Scarlets couldn't seem to play ball as they lost 80-53 in a decisive victory for the Wingers. A sprained ankle kept Wayne Gaughran from playing and this slowed down the team rebounding considerably.

FROM THE HEIGHT OF VICTORY, when Austin received the District II title.

TO THE DEPTH OF DEFEAT, when they were forced to accept the runner-up spot in the Region 1 race.

Austin Is District Winner Runner-Up In Regional

Austin swept through the District II trials with regal ease as they downed Albert Lea, 62-47, with some sparkling scoring by the Austin starting five.

The second game in the District race was a complete trouncing on the part of the Packers, who won 93-48 going away. The second team played most of the game and were responsible for a good part of the winning streak against Bloming Prairie.

Snapping back in the second half of play, Austin managed to trip the Spring Valley quint, 90-70. Lead by Gaughran's 26 points, the Packers showed excellent scoring; shooting at 40%. The rebounding was considered the turning tactic of the game.

Runner-up in the Region I race, Austin, for the first time in five years, did not hold a booth in the state tournament. Austin was unable to get started and was outclassed by the sparkling Winhawks. The halftime seemed somewhat bright for the Scarlets, 33-31, but the Winhawks soon zoomed ahead and Austin suffered a sad and blowing defeat, 70-61.

Win or lose the Austin basketball team is still considered the best by the AHS student body.

FIGHTING HARD FOR THE REBOUND, freshman, Jim Miller, desperately tries to recover the ball, while Bill Dunlap watches.

B-Squaders Win Eight Lose Six During Season

Enthusiastic underclassmen turn out each year to support Blair Hainer's B-squad and this year was no exception with the turn out of 18 boys. Fifty-five and fifty-six was an average year for the B-squad cagers as they won eight and lost six. They improved their record from past years and have also been given more attention by the student body.

The star players were Dave Seivers, Jim Baldwin, Jerry Peterson, Brian Baudler, Roger Booher, Manly Osborn, and Chuck Schneider. Other team members also lent their abilities to the betterment of the team. Freshmen and sophomores have been showing great success and it looks as if future years will be ones to look forward to in A-squad games.

...Wrestlers Have Tough Season

The AHS wrestling gym is always full of grapplers constantly striving to improve themselves by learning new holds and maneuvers that are essential for a good wrestling team.

This year the Packer matmen under the coaching of Sky Wilcox and Sig Qvale pulled a couple of upsets in Big Nine competition that cannot be underestimated. The team managed to snap a three meet losing streak when they defeated the scrappy Tiger team 20-16. Winning six of the eleven events were Dan Gamelin, Bob Rugg, Dave Kinny, Delbert Kinny, John McClain and Bill Sayles.

Another well earned victory came when the Austin matmen tripped the Northfield Raiders by a score of 30-13.

Although the wrestling team wasn't the champion, the members showed unusual spirit and drive. The school will lose the following matmen through graduation: Rugg, Bell, Sayles, Moe, Lyle, Delbert Kinny, and Warrington.

The lone contender in the state meet was Bob Rugg.

OFF TO A FAST START, Bob Watts intends to keep his lead and score another hard earned victory for the Scarlets.

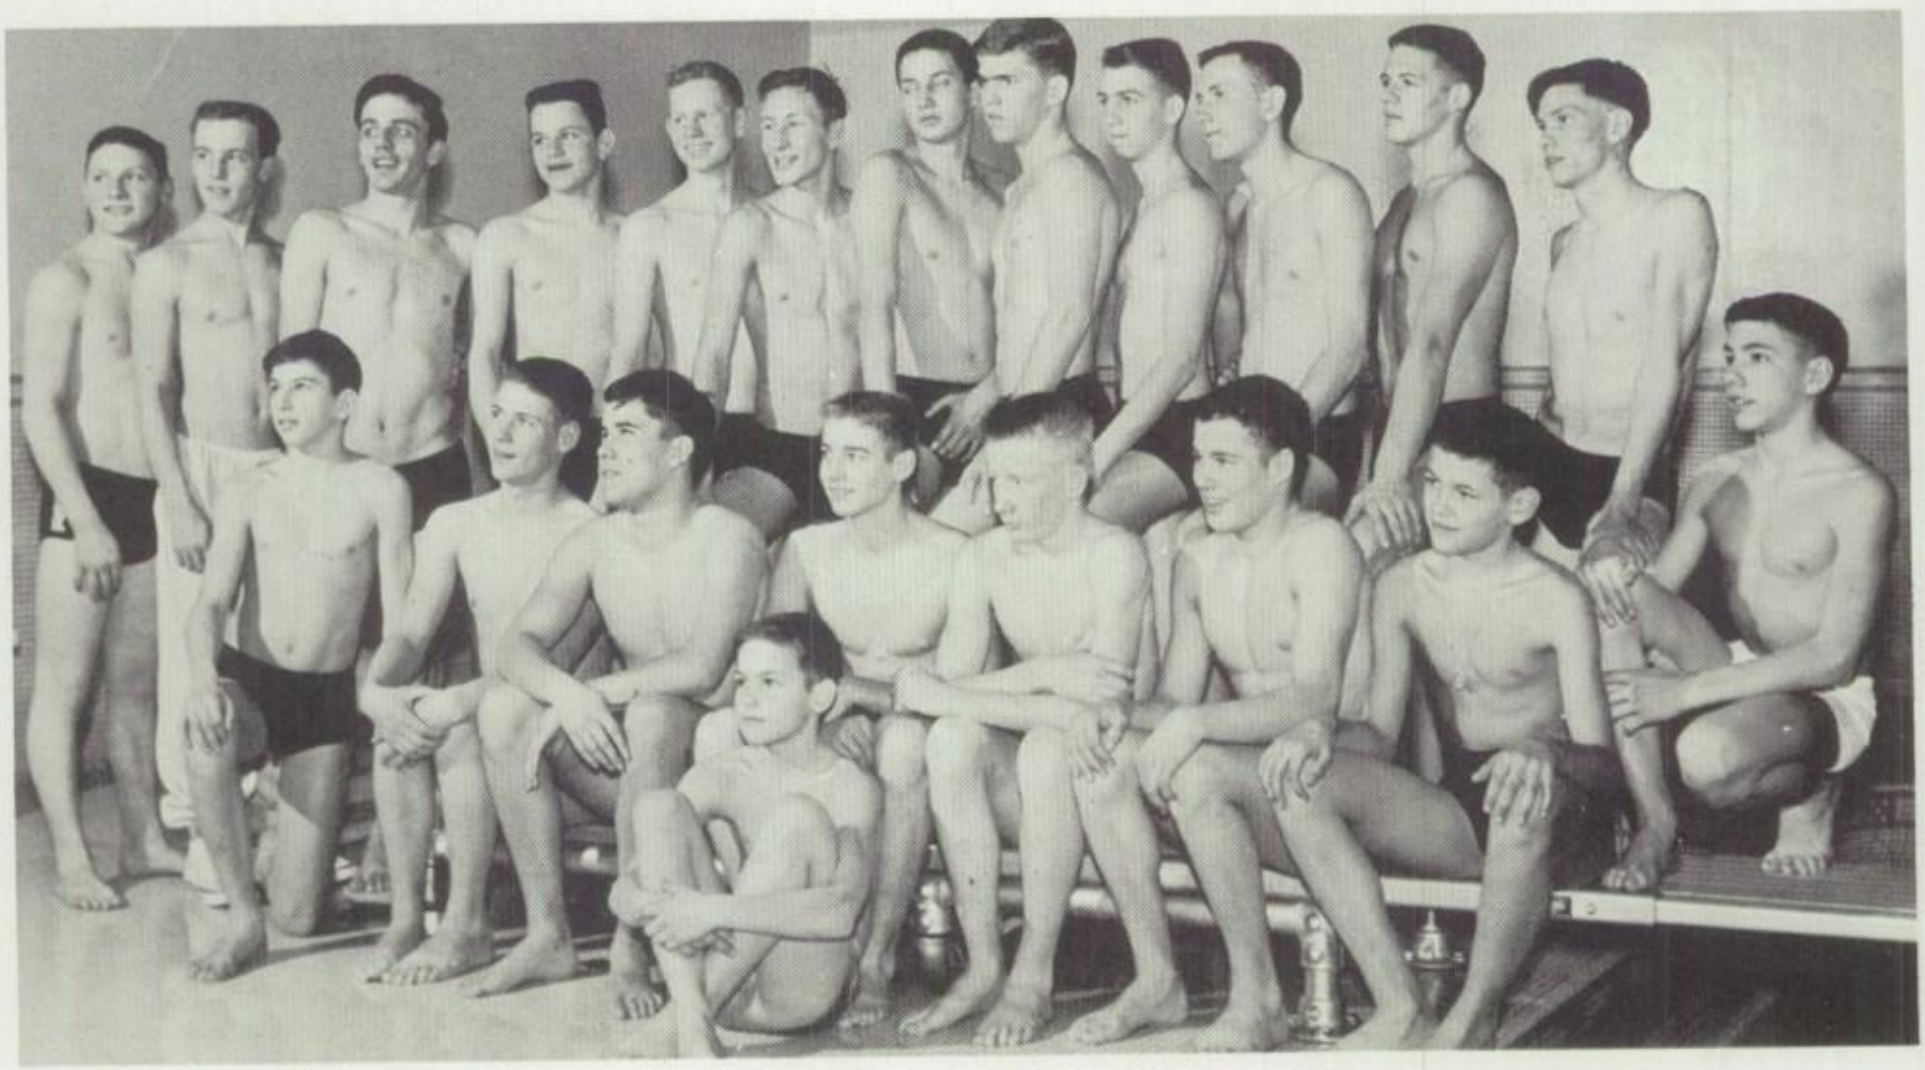
Packers Set Record But Lose to Rochester

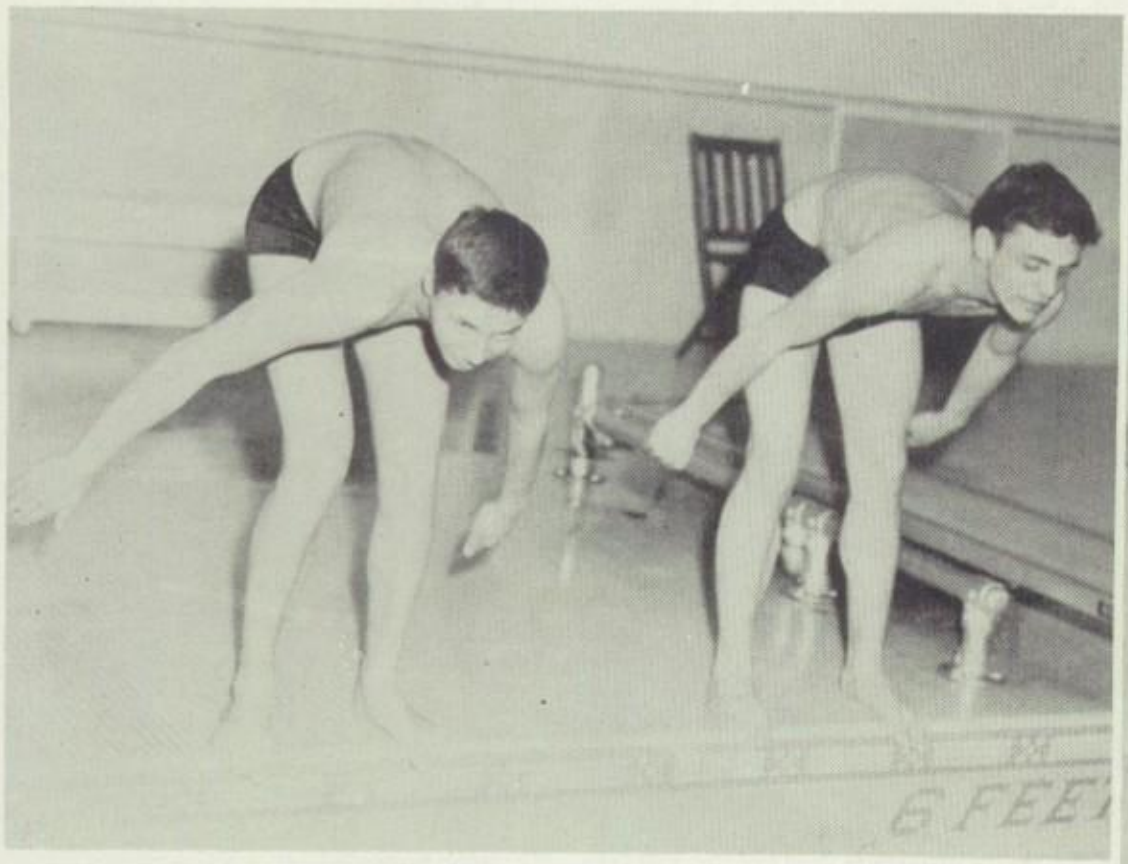
Endurance, coordination, and form are the important desires of any swimmer. To be a member of Coach Vern Ojanpa's swimming team, the boys must develop these three important characteristics. In '56 the Tankers chalked up a record of four wins and five losses.

In their first meet the team dropped a 47-30 verdict to Rochester, defending state champions. The boys suffered under strong competition with only two of Austin's men finishing in the winning circle — Saari in the 100 yard breast-stroke and Watts in the 100 yard freestyle. Jim Veverka, Bill LeBarron, Jack Saari, and Bob Watts participated in the medley relay that broke the pool record with a time of 2:06.1.

Then the tables turned in our favor as the Packers smashed the score of the weak Stillwater team. The Scarlets set three pool records with Jack Saari and Manfred Caesar, Austin exchange student, and the relay team bringing home the honors. The Tankers also defeated Shattuck by a smoldering score of 58-19.

ROW 1: Guckeen, Watts, Caesar, Plath, Matison, Johnson, Newell, Renville, Harrison. ROW 2: Earl, Blowers, Anderson, Spahn, Heikel, Smalley, Saari, Wilcox, Pickett, LeBarron, Veverka, MacDonald.





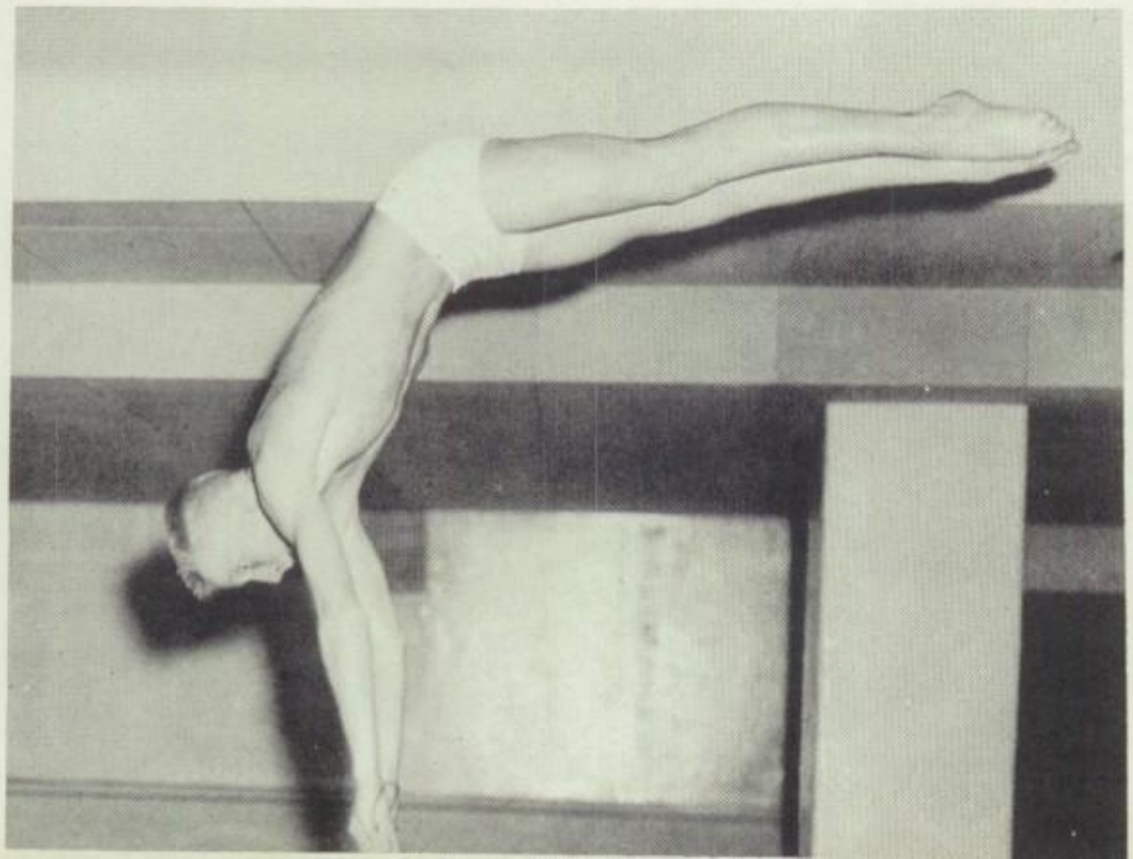
TAKE YOUR POSITIONS- Jack Saari and Allen Anderson await the gun which will send the swimmers into competitive waters.

Six Tankmen Advance To State

In regular Big Nine competition, Austin set a record in the Winona meet. Breaking their own record, the Austin relay team managed to defeat the Winhawks, but still the team suffered a loss with a score of 43-34. Representing the school at the state meet were: Jack Saari, Manfred Caesar, Lee Wilcox, Bill LeBarron, Ron Johnson and Jim Veverka.

The diving competition for the '56 season has been dominated mainly by Ron Johnson and Roger Plath, with Johnson racking up many firsts for the Scarlets. Both of these boys will return next year, a positive factor in Austin's favor.

Austin will lose seven men and will have to carry on a large scale rebuilding job, but with the return of such men as Saari, Watts and Newell, Ojampa has a good nucleus from which to build. Graduating lettermen are Earl, Blowers, Anderson, Wilcox, LeBarron, Veverka and exchange student, Manfred Caesar.



GETTING THE FEEL OF THE BOARD, Roger Plath takes a few practice jumps before executing his dive.

CHURNING UP THE WATERS, breast stroker, Jim Veverka takes the lead and keeps it as he races down the last lap to another victory.

PERFECTION IS THE KEY WORD IN DIVING. Here Ron Johnson demonstrates true poise of the board.

TALKING OVER the strategy of a possible win are Gary Tate, Dave Ploof, Gary Underhill, Terry Meyer, Dale Beckel, Bob Mathias and Larry Arnold.

Veterans Pace Packer Line

The familiar cry, "Play ball," is as much a harbinger of spring as the return of the robin. Coach Dick Seltz begins early each season to mold his squad into what he hopes will be a winning year. In '55, many veterans returned to the diamond to headline a winning season.

The Scarlets won 5 of the 9 games they played in regular competition by trouncing such teams as Fairmont, Owatonna, Red Wing, and although the Mankato team proved more difficult for the diamond aces, they managed to gain another well deserved victory.

The Packer Nine lost 4 of their games to Winona, Rochester, Mason City, and Edina, but they were by very slim margins and the team gained much experience for the coming struggle through the District, Regional and State playoffs.

THE IMPORTANCE OF DISCRETION in selecting the right bat is shown by Ron McKay.

Packer Nine Takes Second in State

The '55 District Tournament proved to be one of the most exciting, tense, and thrill packed contests in many years for the loyal AHS fans.

Austin in its first game took rival Albert Lea, 3-1. Gary Underhill held the Tigers all the way, although they threatened Austin many times. Austin's powerful hitting plus Underhill's cool head proved too much for the frustrated Tigers.

In the second game of the District II race, little LeRoy fell easily to the Packer's skill and determination and experience accounted for the Packer victory.

Throughout the Regional tourney the Packer Nine continued their battle toward the state title as they trounced Caledonia and Owatonna. The factors contributing to the Packers continued success were the pitching of Gary Underhill and Bob Mathias plus good teamwork.

In their first state tournament play, the Scarlets shut out International Falls 4-0. The tables were turned on the Packers when Minneapolis Washburn shut them out on Gordy Sundan's no-hitter 2-0.

In recognition of their outstanding state tournament play, Gary Underhill was selected all-state pitcher and Larry Arnold all-state outfielder.

Lettermen To Spark '56 Team...

With the approach of each new season, Coach Seltz is on the alert for new material to back his team. Austinites will feel the loss of such players as pitcher Gary Underhill and sluggers Larry Arnold and Dan Greenameyer, who had batting averages of .473 and .339 respectively. However, with the return of last year's lettermen — Gary Tate, Bob Mathias, Bill Roach, Lair DeSart, Delbert Van Greevenhof and Dan James supported by new material up from the B-squad, AHS fans can look forward to another impressive season.

...B-Squad Sets Impressive Record

B-squad baseball is used in the AHS extra-curricular activities mainly for the purpose of further developing the playing skills of boys in grades 9 and 10 who have not reached the playing ability of the A-squad. Each year, Mr. Lonning drills these potential varsity boys in the basic fundamentals and rules of the game. Emphasis is placed on skill and sportsmanship, all important objectives in any athletic participation.

Although star-pitcher, Ron McKay, was continuously being transferred between the A-squad and B-squad pitching mounds, the B-team lost to only one rival, Lyle.

Also participating in intra-mural games are the 7th and 8th grade baseball aspirants under the supervision of Mr. Lehrke.

Cheerleaders Promote Spirit in AHS...

"Rah, rah, rah for old Austin High!" This familiar phrase begins as the cheerleaders lead the school fans in a rousing fight song to overcome tough Big Nine opponents. Their peppy routines displayed at games and pep fests have been developed during long hours of practice under the direction of Miss Clair Cleary.

The B squad cheerleaders developed into a very active organization this year and cheered regularly at B Squad games. This group is made up of six girls in eighth and ninth grades, who are anxious to become cheerleaders in senior high.

Each year try-outs are held and the students are chosen for style, voice, coordination, and enthusiasm.

Underclassmen Spark Team...

Prospects look bright for a fairly successful track season. This sport brings out a large crop of boys each year — turning up newer and better material.

Although the '55 team was unbalanced and lacked depth, the boys showed improvement as the season progressed. Speed, endurance, stamina, and spirit are necessary traits for a winning team. While the cindermen lacked speed, they doubled in spirit.

Coach John Saari's team took a 7th in the Big Nine Conference race with Rochester copping the honors. However, the season had its standouts. Individual stars were Gene White in the shot put and discus and Roger Lillquist in the mile. Ken Clifford and Marvin Veverka were also other outstanding trackmen in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, and the high jump. Although White, Clifford, and Veverka have graduated, the team still has the support of twelve returning lettermen.

AUSTIN'S LONG DISTANCE RUNNER, Roger Lillquist, burns up the track in an all out victory over Big Nine rivals.

Linksters Optimistic About Future Seasons

From the first tee-off to the final putt our Austin High School golf team worked hard to come through winning six of the nine meets. Captain Dave P. Johnson was backed by a full squad of 37 men including returning lettermen, Jon Webber, Jim Lembcke, Dale Hall and Howie Wennes.

Although Austin did not establish an impressive links record this year, Webber took medalist honors in the Big Nine tournament and went on to the state meet.

However, Coach Lembcke optimistically discussed the future seasons: "I believe we have the potential to build the best golf team Austin has seen in ten years. Most of the boys are already 70 shooters and with such up-and-coming prospects as Bruce Hall, Brian Baudler, and Ray Appel, we have the nucleus of a great team."

THIS DETERMINED FOURSOME — Jon Webber, David P. Johnson, Jim Lembcke, and Dale Hall get the feel of their clubs as the season rolls into full swing.

THE CALL OF "FORE" also beckons younger hopefuls, Bruce Hall and Gary Knowlton. One of the chief pastimes of golfers everywhere is that of retrieving lost balls

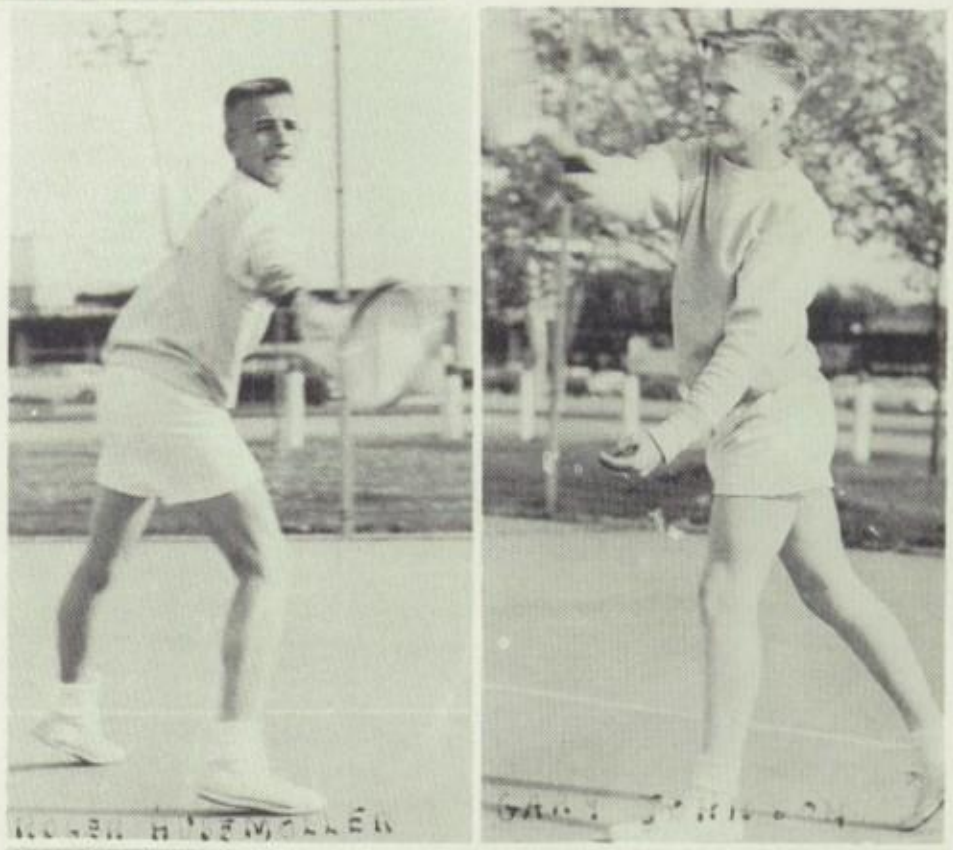
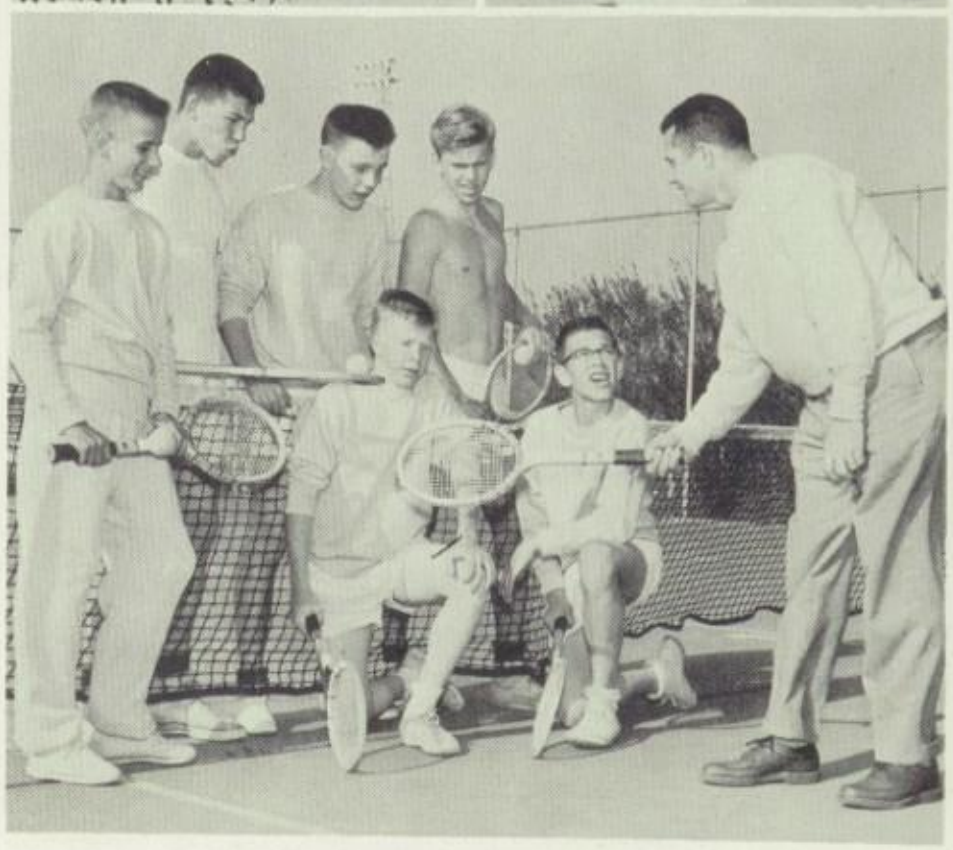
Tennis Becoming Popular Competitive Sport

During recent years in school sports, tennis has made increasing gains in popularity and interest among athletes and fans alike. A fast moving game coupled with plenty of competition, tennis has lured additional men to the court each season.

The netmen's steady playing took them through the spring to compete against Albert Lea in the District Two meet where Lee Wilcox and Bob James came through with honors for Austin. Roger Husemoller nearly pulled one of the biggest upsets in state high school tennis play before losing to Albert Lea veteran Tom Steidler. Wilcox and James then journeyed to the regional conference to represent Austin.

Returning to back Bill Lewis' court strategy will be Husemoller, Carothers, James, Johnson and several younger tennis enthusiasts. Sports followers can look forward to another exciting year for the Austin High tennis team.





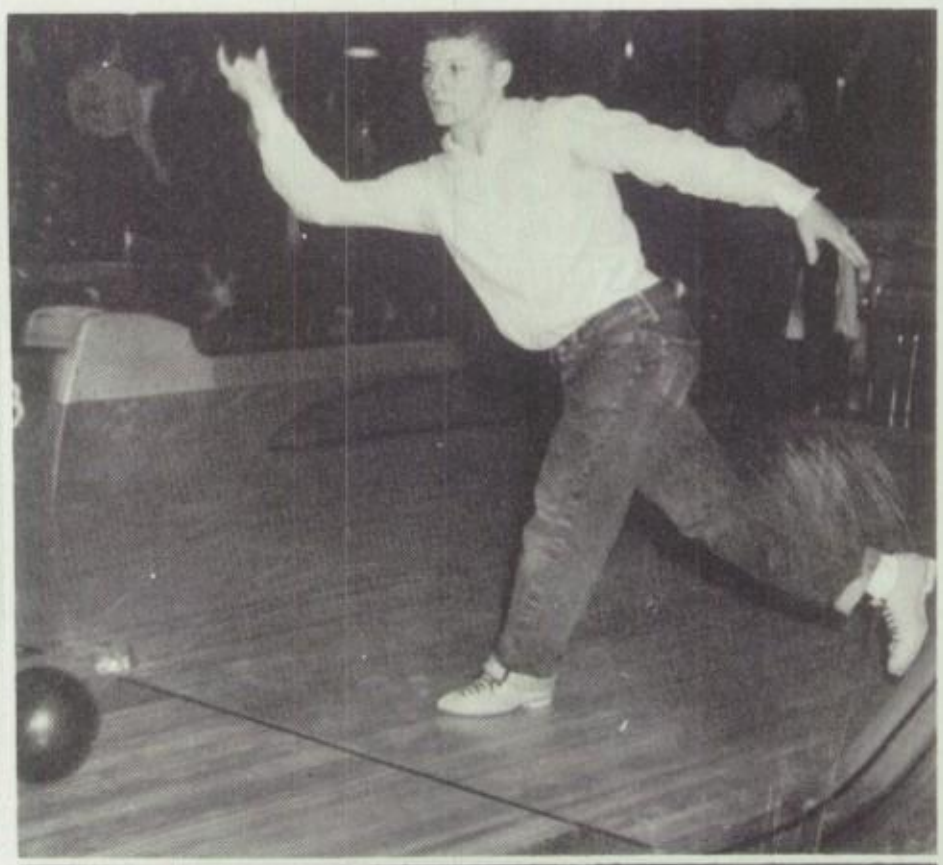
WATCHING INTENTLY as Coach Lewis demonstrates the fundamentals of the game are AHS regulars Roger Husemoller, Ron Carothers, Dave Toresdahl, Gary Johnson, Lee Wilcox, Bob James.

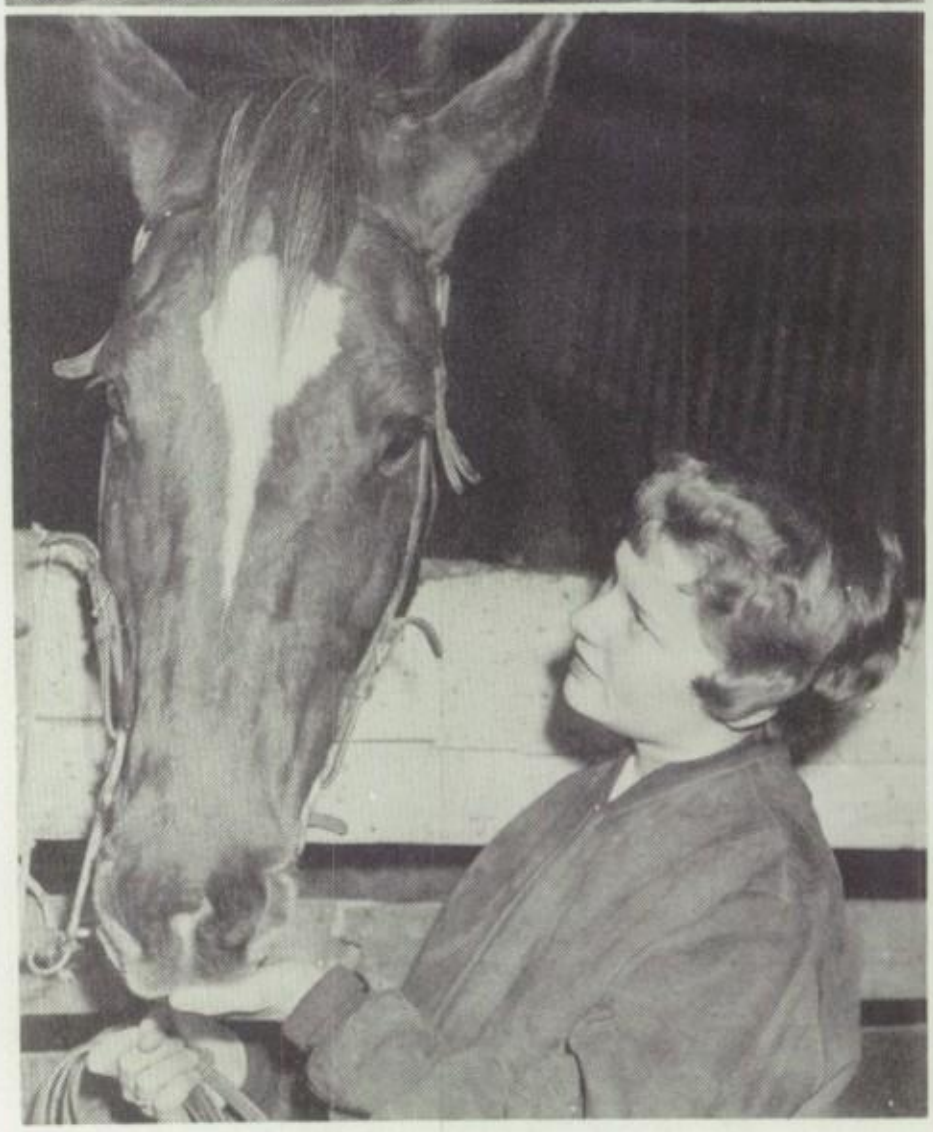
SPARRING FOR THE GOLDEN GLOVES, Roger Hallum and Jim Green fight it out in a practice bout before the big match.

EXECUTING A CHRISTY, Chuck Busch demonstrates one of the intricate turns that an amateur skier must master.

TRYING FOR A SPARE, Ron Earl attempts to bring up his team's score.

AFTER A BRISK RIDE, Mary Cay Nockleby rewards her horse with a bit of refreshment — a lump of sugar.





Variety of Sports Challenge Austinites

Throughout the year there are many sports other than those featured in our school's athletic program, in which many students at AHS participate whole heartedly. Rating high on the list of favorites are bowling, skiing, riding and boxing.

Recently bowling has become very popular with the teenage crowd. For some it is an enjoyable dating activity; for others it is a challenge in the form of team competition. Many boys congregate at the Shaw Gym and spend an evening at ping pong or pool. The more peppy ones may also try their skill at the strenuous sports of boxing and basketball.

Other avid sports fans try water skiing or fishing on some of Minnesota's many lakes. A few enjoy the surroundings about them as they traverse their favorite slope on skiis or cantor down a shady bridle path on horseback.

Participation in sports, whether competitive or otherwise, offers the amateur a healthful and enjoyable experience.

Students Combine Talents In Christmas Pageant

A mass chorus, a selected orchestra and six impressive tableaus comprised this year's Christmas pageant. The students in the art department designed and constructed the fitting background; chorus and orchestra members worked hard learning the special Christmas music; and members of the drama clubs took part in the tableaus which portrayed the Christmas story. This pageant is the outstanding public performance of the year.

Music and Drama Build Bridges To Culture

Music and drama build bridges too — bridges to culture. It is important that we have culture today in this age of machines. These arts provide a welcome contrast in a world of mass production with its push-button controls and routine operations. Our modern conveniences tend to make us insensitive to the finer things in life.

Thus the bridge becomes more complete through dramatic clubs and productions, vocal groups, bands, and orchestras because they train and develop the interests and talents of Austin High School youth.

A SCOTTISH SWORD DANCE was presented as part of the special Brigadoon feature during the spring chorus concert. Shown in their Scottish kilts for the dance are Phyllis Smith and Sandra Beck.

ORIGINALITY OF PRESENTATION and cleverness of script are important factors considered in the Dirk and Bauble tryouts. Doree Kestner did a take-off on DRAGNET and Charles Langeberg assisted her with sound effects in the background.

Tryouts, Stage Work Help Train Amateurs

Most of us overlook the preparation that goes on behind the scenes before a play can be successfully produced.

As in most special productions there are always tryouts to be held. In the case of drama at Austin High School, there are club tryouts to determine membership in drama clubs, as well as play tryouts to decide which young dramatists will be most suited for the characters in a play. Club membership, however, is not a requirement for students who participate in dramatic productions. Students enjoy tryouts because of the fun and experience they get from them.

After the players have been selected, committees are chosen. They immediately begin making scenery, finding props, or learning how to make-up the players. Meanwhile the play cast rehearses daily with the help of student prompters and the director.

ANYTHING FROM HULA SKIRTS to red flannels was seen on new Thespian members at their initiation. Mike Osborn made his hula skirt out of old newspapers.

PLAY TRYOUTS ARE ESSENTIAL in selecting the right person for each part. Lisbeth Westenberg and John Ullom were two of the fortunates for roles in BERNADINE.

WATCHING FROM THE WINGS to see that all goes well is part of a director's job. Now that the play is finally presented, Mr. Hovland can laugh at a few of the jokes with other Thespians - Joyce Hammermeister, Ronnie Raasch, Mary Keller, Sharon Ahlgren, and Roger Johnson.

ACTIVITY BEHIND THE SCENES is as important as that on stage if the production is to be a complete success. Shirley Nelson and Dee McDermott make-up Charles Busch and John Cummings for their roles in the fall play.

Opening Night Climaxes Players' Efforts

Opening night means the climax of everybody's hard work! The actors, professional or amateur, are usually excited and nervous, but always give convincing performances.

However, before there can be an opening night there must be a dress rehearsal. By then all committees must have their work completed and the actors must know their lines and cues.

This year there were two opening nights for the play, BERNADINE. These opening nights were tense ones for the cast, committees, and the director, but after the final curtain, everyone relaxed. A short time later laughter filled the backstage area where students were removing make-up, hanging away costumes, and taking down scenery. Before they had finished discussing the evening's performance, they were already looking forward to the next opening night.

PHYSICAL APPEARANCE, as well as personality, must sometimes be changed to adequately portray a particular character from a play. For her role in BERNADINE, Mary Swenson's hair was dyed black by cosmotology students Pat Luren and Priscilla Doty.

Young Artists Gain Dramatic Experience...

Young artists develop their skill at character portrayal through activities in Dirk and Bauble Drama Club. They not only had an opportunity to participate in plays but also worked on committees behind the scenes.

One three act play was presented for the public this year. The fall play, BERNADINE, a comedy differed from most plays in that the players moved the props themselves.

The club was capably managed by Joel Phelps, president; Roger Knutson, vice president; Joan Kling, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Cecily Spaulding, advisor.

CONSTANT ATTENDANCE at rehearsal is necessary for cast members Howie Wennes, Maurice Butler, John Cummings, and Roger Knutson. Assisting them is Jane Perry, prompter.

SO YOU DON'T LIKE SAUERKRAUT? Oh well, it's only a scene from the Thespian play, QUIET PLEASE. Mike Osborn, Pat Flatten, and Darwin Olson were the only characters in the play.

TEMPERS FLARED briefly before Sharon Vinaas managed to calm down chess players Roger Johnson and Ronnie Raasch in WHICH IS THE WAY TO BOSTON?

Thespians Try Their Hand at Dramatic Art

Several years ago the Thespian Drama Club was organized for Austin High School sophomores to give them a chance to develop dramatic talent, and to aim for membership in the parent society, Dirk and Bauble. Thespians work on a point system toward their goal by participating in plays, committees, and money-making projects.

Two assemblies are staged each year by club members; Which Is the Way to Boston? and Quiet, Please! were presented early in the year. High Window, a longer play, was produced in the spring.

Mr. Carroll Hoveland directed the Thespians in their pursuit of the dramatic arts assisted by active officers Mier Wolf, president; Mary Keller, vice-president; Mary Gay Nockleby, secretary; and Sue Plager, treasurer.

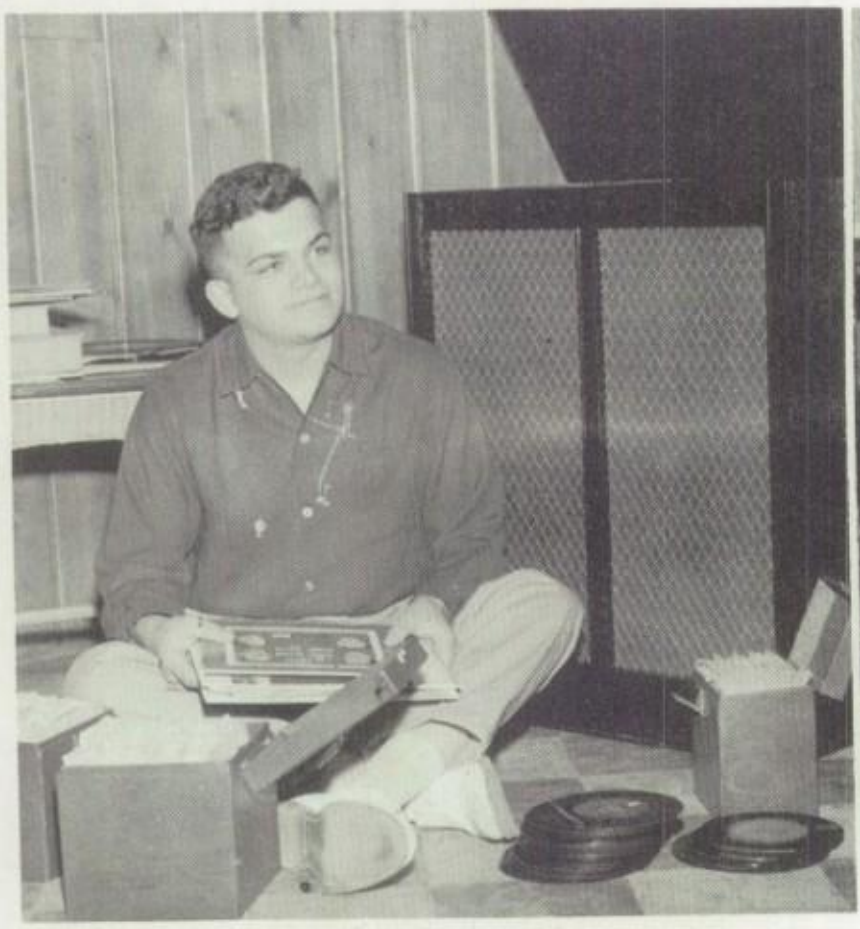
Popular Music Plays A Constant Role . . .



Most student's evening entertainment consists of popular music of one form or another, because it's fun and also inexpensive. The student may spend the evening watching any number of his favorite hit parade television shows with all his friends, while he sips a coke and munches on potato-chips. Another activity he may participate in is to go over to his girl friend's house, turn on the hi-fi and practice the latest bop steps before the Friday night mixer. Then finally before turning in at night our average teenager goes to sleep listening to his clock radio play "Why Do Fools Fall In Love?" Thus ends our typical student's day, a day in which popular music plays a major role.

RHYTHM AND BLUES are the popular songs of the Austin teenage crowd. Here Mier Wolf gets ready for a party.

LISTENING ATTENTIVELY to the social room juke box, Sharon Kautz, Jim Veverka, Kay Jordan and Chuck Busch relax and listen to good music during the noon hour.

EARLY MORNING MUSIC can be a great boost to a student's day. Ron Wolfe and Dave Sibbers wait until the song's over before going in for a day of school.

. . In The Austin High School Students' Day

TAKING TIME OUT to watch the "Hit Parade" every Saturday night, Judy Van Camp, Judy Clement and Jan Fennell relax and enjoy the nation's seven top tunes.

AH, MUSIC! Jack Saari believes there's no better way to begin or end the day.

ALMOST ANY AHS COUPLE can be found practicing the latest dance steps in their spare time. In preparation for the Prom Kay Moore and Gary Phlager try the bop.

Jazz, Dixieland, Rhythm and Blues, Rock and Roll, and Romantic Ballads, are all types of popular music which play a very important part in the typical teenager's life. Austin High students, as well, have caught on to these different types of pop music.

From the moment they climb out of bed in the morning and head for school in their jalopy, they have already turned on their radios so that they may hear the "top ten" tunes on the hit parade before greeting their pals. At noon they rush down to the social room and spend their lunch nickels on the jukebox, (food for the soul?) They visit the local platter shop after school; then return home to sort out, file, and number their records as they add them to their collection already in the hundreds.

Majorette Maneuvers Demand Practice

When spectators watch the intricate maneuvers and precision timing performed by the majorettes, they often fail to realize the long hours spent practicing and drilling. Before any public performance it is necessary that the majorettes put in hours of practice with the band so that they will be sure to take the right turn at the right moment.

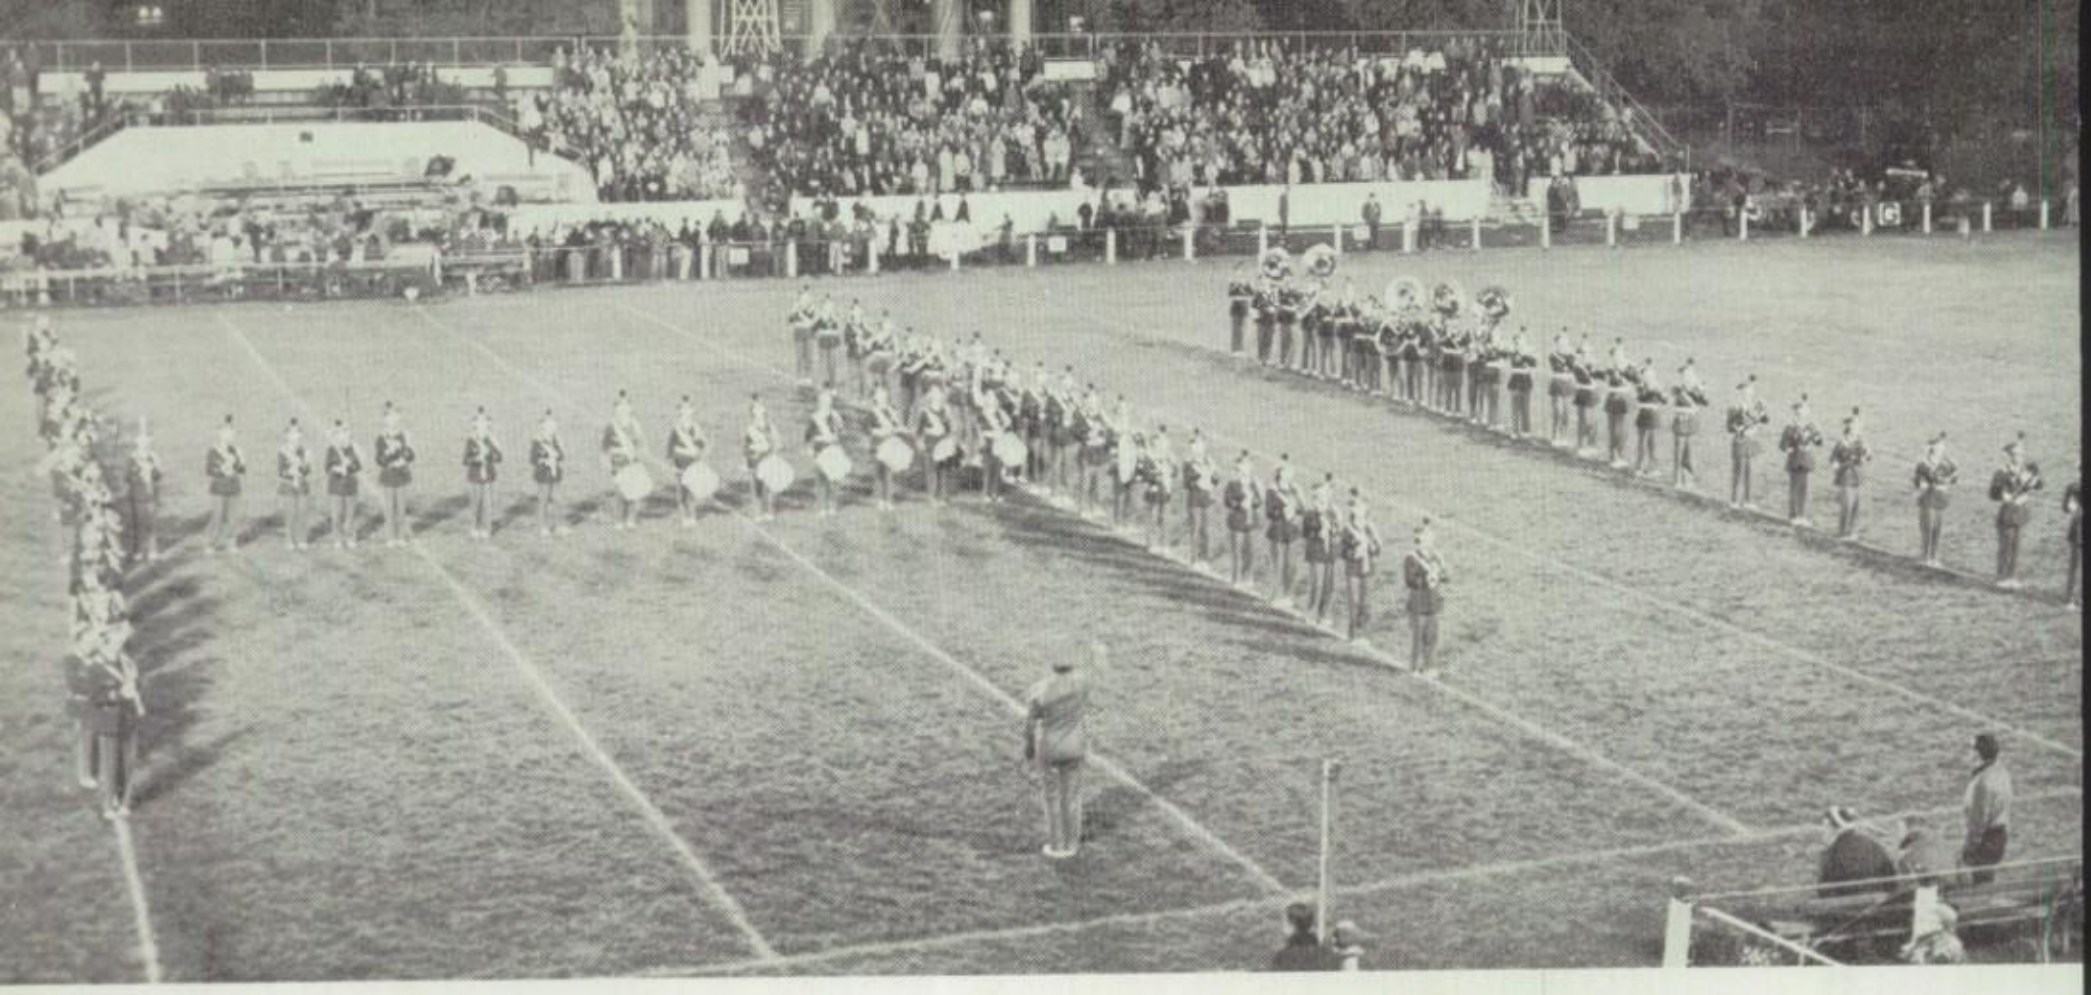
Band Plays Important Part in School Life

A leader of school spirit at basketball games, an excellent source of entertainment at concerts and a smart marching unit on the football field or at the parade, these are some of the phrases that can be used to describe Austin High School's Senior Band. Every member of the band, clad in his blue and gray uniform represents one of the finest school bands in the state. It has attained this standing, only because of hard work and practice with the director, Mr. Sperati. Through participation in band activities the students learn to play an instrument well, and experience enjoyment plus a feeling of success.



SALUTING A VISITING FOOTBALL TEAM is only one of the many formations demonstrated by the Senior band during half time.

A SNAPPY APPEARANCE and ability to play an instrument are two qualities needed to be a member of the Prep band. Phyllis Dankers helps Marilyn Speten select the correct hat size.

Junior Bands Prepare For Senior Membership

Membership in Senior band is the constant goal for members of the Prep and Junior bands. In these bands they learn the fundamentals which prepare them for Senior band. Besides learning to play in large organizations, they also receive individual attention and instruction through sectional groups and individual lessons.

The two bands presented a concert in November and participated in the Junior High May Music Festival. They also took part in parades in Austin. Through participating in parades they learn marching maneuvers and techniques.

.Students learn all these music fundamentals from their two able directors, Mr. C. V. Sperati and Mr. Jack Tedrow.

ANOTHER DAY of school is over but practice must go on. Junior band members Peggy Bulger, Kay Hardy, and Bob Burton take their instruments home for additional practice in hopes of an early promotion to Senior Band.

Junior High Bandsters Practice New Skills

Young junior high band students improve their skill in Intermediate and Beginners band. By belonging to these bands they learn rhythms and group harmony.

Practice is an important part of their training. Many make use of the practice rooms, often working in groups.

Seventh Graders Start Orchestra Careers

The first year of regular orchestra participation is an important one for the seventh graders as they begin their high school music careers.

Intermediate orchestra teaches these young string players the skills necessary before advancing to Junior orchestra and finally Senior orchestra.

LAUGHING AT YOUR OWN MISTAKES is a valuable lesson learned through our music program agree Barbara Snater, Bonita Hanson, and Nancy Lagervall. They find this a good way to relieve some of the tension created from long sessions of strenuous practice.

BEFORE ANY PERFORMANCE the concert mistress must make sure her violin is in tune in order to achieve the utmost perfection in playing. Gail Hardy makes sure of this as Karen Jacob strikes an A on the piano.

Polished Performance Is Musicians' Goal

Aspiring, young musicians get a taste of concert playing by participating in AHS orchestras. Whether or not the students continue their musical career after high school is of relatively little importance, because the enjoyment and experience they receive is invaluable. Some students, however, continue their music after school in college and community life finding it a constant source of inspiration.

In any aspect of learning students need a goal for which to strive. For music the goal is public performance, usually through concert participation. When preparing for a concert, hours of concentrated practice are necessary in order to obtain balance of tone and rhythm.

The highlight of the music department's yearly programs is the annual Christmas festival. This program is eagerly anticipated by both audience and participants.

Versatile Choristers Entertain Austinites

Again this year the versatile and popular Austin High School senior Chorus entertained Austin audiences with their harmonious voices. Featured at five performances, the 90 voice chorus spent many hours practicing before the polished performances. The choristers sang at the Christmas Production, a February concert, the Brotherhood Week assembly, the Big Nine Music Festival, and at Baccalaureate.

Besides directing the chorus, Mr. Funk also supervises ensembles. The Austinaires a mixed group has performed at concerts and other public appearances.

The silhouettes, a well-known girls' triple trio, sang at many assemblies, concerts and at the annual convention of the Minnesota Music Educators Association in Minneapolis. Since the silhouettes are composed of nine senior girls who have been singing together since ninth grade, it will seem strange next year not to hear their arrangements of our favorite songs.

PRACTICE, PRACTICE, PRACTICE was the motto of Martha Moe and Maurice Butler as they spent many hours with Wilbur Funk, chorus director, preparing their numbers for the Metropolitan Opera scholarship auditions.

New Chorus Organized For Senior High Girls

Something new in the Austin High School music department is the Senior High Girls' Chorus. The group was formed mainly to accommodate tenth grade girls interested in senior high chorus. These girls made their initial appearance at the Christmas Concert. In the future Wilbur Funk, the director, plans to develop the group into a permanent girls' chorus.

THE NINE FRESHMEN is a newly organized ninth grade triple trio which is gaining popularity. Its members are: Phyllis Roush, piano; Diane Frederick, Barbara Quam, Ruth Wuertz, Roberta Lawson, Karen Williams, Barbara Senjen, Susan Sondergaard, Joan Johnson, Joyce Wagand.

9th GRADE MIXED CHORUS — ROW 1: M. Everson, DeVaney, M. Williams, Fisch, Rodahl, Erwin, Titus, G. Johnson, Wuertz, Wescott, Kentta, Ferguson, Derosier, Martin, Madison, Loewen. ROW 2: Roush, K. Junior High Students Active in Vocal Groups

Junior high students start organizing early vocal ensembles, which often continue throughout high school. Mrs. Dorothy Viker helps the junior high students with their arrangements and harmonizing before they sing in public.

An active ninth grade mixed chorus under the direction of Wilbur Funk learn the intricacies of part singing with a large group.

HOPING TO ACHIEVE membership in Senior chorus junior high girls gain extra experience from participating in ensembles. Seen rehearsing here is the eighth grade girls' sextet with Cecelia Gothard, Janice Keller, Barbara Berven, Joy Carll, Janet Kiesatt, and Barbara Finbraaten.

SINGING IS A FAVORITE PASTIME for these eighth grade girls. This year they formed a triple trio with the following membership: Bonnie Barnett, Jean Grundy, Lani Allen, Annette Peterson, Sally Stevenson, Carole Downing, Gretchen Lemmerman. Not pictured are Gail Wangen and Joan Fogdall.

CLOWNING AFTER PERFORMING are Judy Aandahl, Darla Bjork, Karen Matison, Jean Anderson, Susie Welch, Nancy Williams.

Festival Climaxes Musicians' Year

Every spring Austin High School musicians attend the annual Big Nine Music Festival. There they have a chance to perform with and observe musicians from other schools in chorus, band, and orchestra competition. Not only do they enjoy meeting fellow musicians, but they have an opportunity to exchange musical tips. This annual festival is a very fitting climax for a year of hard work.

Junior High Council Completes First Year

An active student council of its own is further evidence that the junior high is emerging into a separate unit. A constitution revision last spring divided the junior and senior high into separate councils. As a result, the junior council is now a completely independent unit that holds regular meetings and assumes responsibility for student government in grades seven through nine. Along with his executive duties, president Stan Pickett also presided at the junior high assemblies held throughout the year.

JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Jim Miller, treasurer, Tom Kezar, vice-president, Stan Pickett, president, and Marilyn Speten, secretary.

SENIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Jon Webber, vice-president; Martha Moe, secretary; Arlette Torkelson, treasurer; Bill Dunlap, president.

Social Room Launched By Student Council

As a governing link between the AHS students and administration, the student council works to achieve better understanding between the two bodies.

Among the council's accomplishments, was the opening of the social room, which became a reality this year. During their lunch period students enjoy ping-pong, dancing, and reading magazines in the friendly atmosphere of this new room.

A "Courtesy Is Contagious" campaign was begun by the student council. Posters were displayed in class rooms to remind busy students and faculty of this important slogan. Student council members also posted Clean-Up reminders throughout the building.

With the separation of the junior and senior councils, the members of both groups have been able to operate more effectively now that they can devote more time to problems which are directly related to their situations.

ENJOYING THE REWARDS of their labor in the new social room are student council committeemen Mary Dunlap, Howie Wennes, Jean Anderson, and Joel Phelps.

FOR SMOOTH OPERATION, many committee meetings are necessary. Here the noon-hour committee ponders one of its many problems. Members are John Ullom, Charles Tausche, Joan Kline, David G. Johnson, and Bill Dunlap.

Societas Latinas Keeps Roman Culture Alive...

Culture is an important part of education, yet it is something not always gained in regular studies. The Latin Club of Austin High School has, for the past 30 years, given its large membership an appreciation of the literature, arts, and traditions that the Romans developed as a basis for our modern civilization.

Under the direction of Miss Margaret Scarseth, Societas Latinus (the Society of Latins) has become an integral part of extra-curricular activities in AHS. Meetings are held once a month with the Roman Senate as the administrative body.

The social structure of the club begins with the first year Latin students at the bottom as slaves. After one year they are initiated into full membership, becoming patricians. Senators and nobility complete the scale and are duly respected according to their stations.

The regular gatherings are organized to present some of the affairs symbolic of the Roman people. A Saturnalia, which is a New Year festival, is held and slave auctions are scheduled annually. Latin Club members bury the Pontifus Maximus in the spring and then hail a new leader chosen from the patrician group. One of the more ritualistic ceremonies is the presentation of a Roman Wedding in February.

In striving to build a bridge between culture and learning, the Latin Club has served its purpose well.

REIGNING AS KING OF THE SATURNALIA, a holiday for Roman slaves, was fun for Dennis Dougherty. Dennis chose Betty Geyer as queen to reign with him over the festivities including a potluck supper.

WEDDING CAKE IS A TRADITION at a Latin Club wedding as at most wedding celebrations. Carol Ulland and Chuck Langeberg representing the bride and groom shared a piece as Diane Overocker gave her blessing to the couple.

"SOLD TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER!" cried John Ullom, auctioneer, and Sigre Sitz was sold as a slave. Each fall first year Latin students are sold as slaves to club members, for whom they perform various tasks.

Der Deutsch Verein Organized This Year

Recently a new flavor has been added to some student vocabularies. Such phrases as "Guten tag mein, Herr!" and "Wiegehts, Fraulein" can be heard echoing their friendly greetings down the corridors of AHS from room 323. Yet until this year, many people were unaware that a growing German colony existed in our midst. However, they have finally asserted their identity by organizing the German Club and placing it on an equal plane with the other language groups in school.

With Mrs. Gerta Barrett as adviser, the German Club works for the purpose of promoting a better understanding between our American way of life and the German culture. Already this newly-founded organization has proved itself to be beneficial in school activities and promises to become a leading factor in extra-curricular activities during the next few years.

Gathering at their first meeting in November, the 35 charter members elected Charles Tausche as president, Bob Ames as vice-president and Margaret Evans secretary-treasurer to serve a term of one year.

"ACH NEIN, ACH NEIN!" pleaded David G. Johnson in the play Der Falschen Zahn presented to the newly formed German Club. Other members of the cast included Sheldon Hess, the dentist, and Margaret Evans, his assistant.

...El Circulo Espanol Features Spanish Customs

Once a month fascinating sounds were heard in various parts of the building as the Spaniards gathered at their Tuesday meetings during the past year. Strains of a soft tango floated from the cafeteria, excited Spanish phrases tumbled forth from the Vocational social room and noisy searchers combed the area on their annual scavenger hunt. One of the more festive events held was the Christmas Pinata, which is the traditional Spanish way of giving gifts during the holidays.

Eligible for membership in El Circulo Espanol are present and past Spanish students who are interested in learning more about the social and cultural activities of Spanish-speaking people. The growing membership of Spanish Club is an indication of the increasing popularity that foreign languages enjoy in AHS.

Officers elected last spring include Jack Saari, president; Sandra Anderson, vice-president and Jim Warn, treasurer. Mrs. Evelyn Galbraith is the club adviser.

When the Spanish Club initiated new members in October, they were rewarded with a Chile supper, Senora's specialty.

LOTERIA ENTHUSIASTS had a chance to try their luck at the February meeting which featured the Spanish version of Bingo. Amid muttered exclamations of "Que Lastima!" and "Caramba!" Ken Thomsen, Jack Saari, Jim Warn and Dee McDermott hoped for better luck in the next game.

Club Promotes Friendship Develops Leadership

With the aims of promoting friendliness and developing leadership, the SFC carries on a varied and active program throughout the year. Members serve at teas, conduct panel discussions, present a style show, and participate in purely social functions.

AHS students particularly anticipate two annual Friendship Club activities — WPA week, leap year for fourdays when the girls pick up the tab, and their Snow time mixer always based on an unusual theme.

Education and Enjoyment Provided By Libraries

Students have continued to find the libraries extremely useful not only for obtaining information for essays, reports and other assignments, but also for the enjoyment gained in leisure time reading from the wide assortment of books available in our junior and senior high libraries.

Again this year many students have joined the two library service clubs. Members perform such duties as keeping the books in order and in readable condition and supervising the students in the library thus helping to keep it a quiet place in which to study. This work is a valuable contribution to the smooth operation of AHS libraries and we are grateful to them for their fine services.

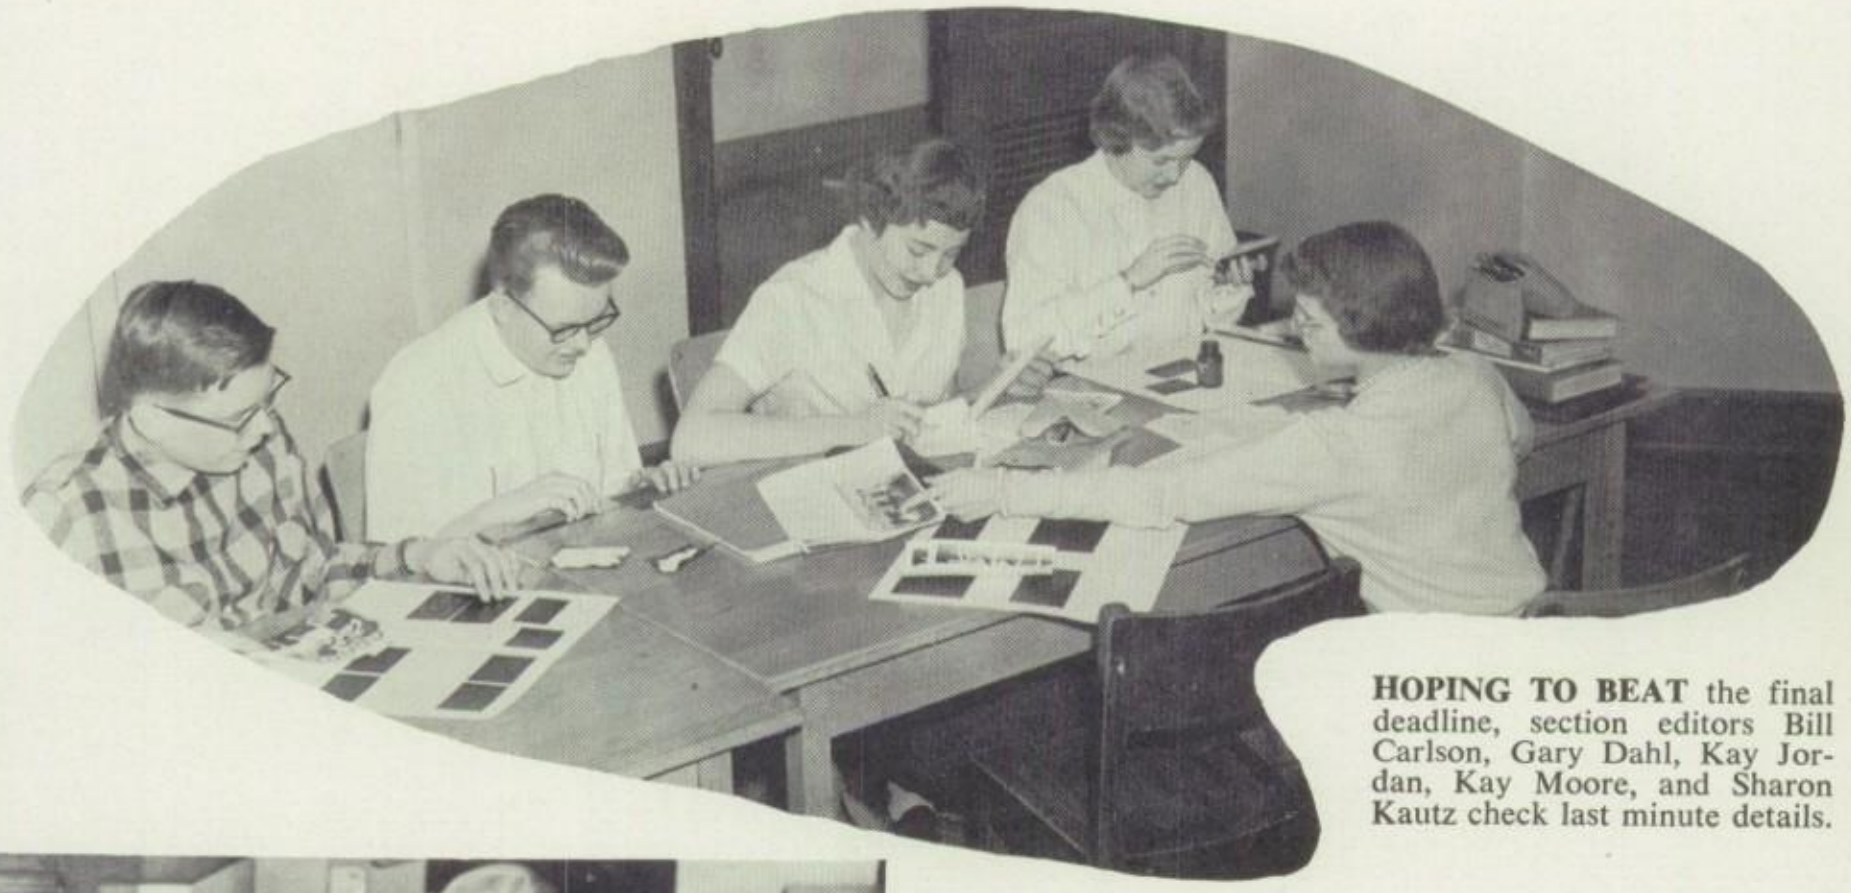
Sentinel Features Clever Stories, Pictures

Readers of the Sentinel are always intrigued by its clever stories and unique pictures. The work behind this bi-monthly paper is carried on by the Editor-in-Chief, Lynda Cook; associate editor, Elveda Lund; sports editor, Jim Veverka; jr. high editor, Joanne Pike, and the staff.

The aims of the paper are to enlighten the readers in an intelligent way, to promote school spirit, and to review and preview news events of AHS.

CHECKING COPY for the Sentinel are ElVeda Lund, Joanne Pike, and Lynda Cook.



HOPING TO BEAT the final deadline, section editors Bill Carlson, Gary Dahl, Kay Jordan, Kay Moore, and Sharon Kautz check last minute details.

INTENT UPON AUSTINIAN WORK are editors Arletta Torkelson, Doree Kestner, and Jean Naslund.

Copy, Layouts, Blacks Familiar to Austinian Staff

Copy, layouts, and blacks are familiar words to the Austinian staff. The finished product represents many hours of creative planning and work. The section editors work under the direction of the co-editors, Doree Kestner and Arlette Torkelson; the business staff is managed by Jean Nasland, and the entire staff is supervised by Miss Alyce Purdham.

One of the highlights of the year for both Austinian and Sentinel staffs is the spring publication banquet at which deserving members receive honors for their work.

Austin's FFA Largest, Most Active in State

Austin High School's chapter of the Future Farmers of America, with its membership of approximately 150, has continued to function as the largest and most active in the state. Almost every member took part in some contest and other activity held at the local, district, and state levels. This spring our General Livestock team placed first in the Barrow Show at Abert Lea and received a trophy.

As part of their observance of National and State FFA week, the Austin chapter placed a display in the Area Vocational School's show window.

REGISTERING IS ALWAYS an important part of a convention. Here a delegate registers with Sonja Heinie and Charlotte Detwiler.

FHA Stresses Essentials For Home Management

The Future Homemakers of America members learn the basic necessities of sewing, cooking, and managing the home. They also practice cooperating and sharing with others.

Arlette Torkelson, senior and retiring president, presided at the District Convention which was held in Austin, October 29. In March, the State Convention took place in Minneapolis. Six delegates attended. Two of these delegates were appointed to the state committee. Sonia Heinie was chosen to be on the election committee and Arlette Torkelson was selected to be the chairman of Public Relations.

WORKING TO BUILD a better club are GAA officers: Sally Kentta, vice-president; Joanne Hulet, secretary; and Betsy Christianson, president.

Fun and Competition

Throughout the year, GAA activities were based on fun and competition within the range of the group's ability. In the fall, a party was held to give everyone a chance to become better acquainted and to get an idea of the year's program.

GAA 9-10 — ROW 1: Schleuder, Hockett, Kentta, Henricks, Fennell, Maston, Baumgarner, Bellrichard. ROW 2: Gilbertson, Carter, Ziemer, Bungum, Nockleby, Fletcher, Wakefield, Earl, Mickelson. Science Clubs Correspond With Student Interests

Students who have the urge to roam the country side looking for strange species or a yen to conduct scientific experiments, find that the two AHS science clubs correspond with their interests.

Each year a science fair is held in which members of both the Junior Science Club and the Junior Academy of Science prepare and display projects.

Darkroom, Studio Aid Photographers

For students who are interested in photography, darkroom and camera work, the AHS Camera Club is the answer. Not only do they learn aspects of photography, but members also exchange ideas with other shutter-bugs.

Since last year, the club has had access to the photographic studio for experimental shots and a new darkroom in which they can develop, print, and enlarge pictures.

Principles of photography are taught to club members by Earl Brooks and Gordon Fogdall.

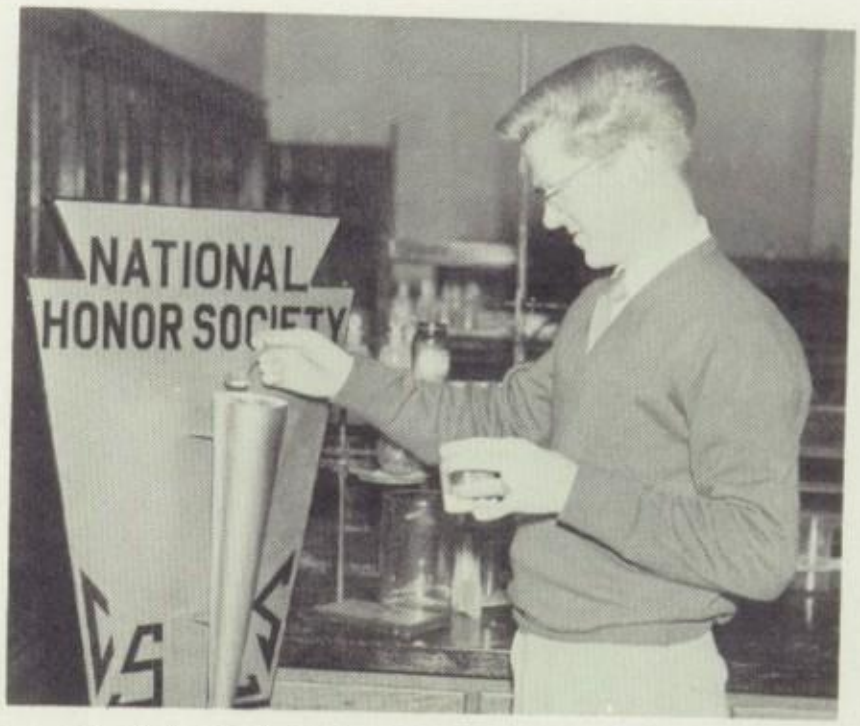
National Honor Society Rewards Leading Seniors

Upholding a high scholastic average and serving as a good citizen are the main qualifications for membership in the National Honor Society. As seniors they have served as leaders through their high school years and established a pattern for other AHS students to follow.

This year 59 students were inducted into the National Honor Society on March 15, at an assembly honoring them. Following the assembly a tea was held in the cafeteria for the newly inducted members and their parents.



PREPARING THE TORCH which will symbolize scholarship and citizenship at the National Honor Society induction is Marvin Holt.

ONE OF THE NEWEST organizations at AHS is the Future Teachers of America. Seeking to interest students in the field of teaching, the Club arranges visits to various schools where members closely observe teaching techniques. Members are: ROW 1: Kautz, Henricks, Geyer, Todd, Norton. ROW 2: Vandergrift, Wilham, Vinas, Eblen, McCoy, Hogrefe. ROW 3: Jordan, Everson, Smith, Wuertz, Watson. ROW 4: Watkins, Dopita, Coumbe, Koontz.

AUDIO VISUAL EDUCATION plays an important part in school studies. The boys who set up and operate the equipment to help make this possible are: ROW 1: Harwood, Vietor, Lawson, Ferguson, Smith, Shuck. ROW 2: Lee, Parmer, Kolpin, Flicek, Correy. ROW 3: Merrill, Ahles, Dewey, Holt, Cooper, Grimley.

Future Personality Traits Developed In Clubs

As we cross the bridge of high school days, we seek to develop not only the basic skills but also those traits which make outstanding personalities. Foremost among these are leadership, a sense of responsibility, and friendliness. The many clubs and service organizations operating in AHS aid the students in acquiring these desirable characteristics.

Royalty Reigns...

What's in a word — queen, for instance, is the best of her kind chosen to reign in her sphere. Around this word and symbol is built all of Homecoming, one of Austin High School's richest traditions. Yes, and into this word is woven respect, dignity, and admiration unsurpassed at no other time of the year. These qualities are desirable not only for royalty, but for anyone who will cross successfully the bridge to the future.

ROYAL ESCORTS, this year's Homecoming innovation, were Lee Wilcox, Joe Tridle, Bob Mathias, Duane Sellers, and Bob Knowlton.

Victory Encouraged By Homecoming Spirit

Homecoming — the memory lingers still! Late hours spent decorating floats and the traditional bonfire that illuminated hundreds of bright faces were but a preface to the big day that dawned crisp and chilly. But hearts were warmed as the queen and her attendants were escorted to the stage by members of the football team. Austin came through with a fitting victory patterned after the original skit of the afternoon. Atmosphere in a quaint Japanese setting was found at the Homecoming dance where gaiety, fun, and laughter drew events to a climax.

We Prepare For the Future Remember When...

The future — it is so undecided and misty. As seniors we are at the crossroads of life and time. Everything is waiting, if we'll but reach out and take it. With graduation comes decisions — those important, influential things which affect us the rest of our days. Each must make a choice — homemaking, higher education, work, or the service. But whatever our choice, the future is in our own hands to be molded with the care and skill of a master.

SCHOOL SPIRIT reaches an all season high at tournament time.

To recall all the year has brought in the way of memories and fun would be an endless task, for in it would have to be recorded not only social events, classes, sports records and extra curricular activities, but also those moments of extreme joy, that hour of what seemed like endless despair, as well as the many other intangible moods. Then, too, it would be hard to capture the most important events for each member of our large high school family because each has his own idea of gaiety, tradition, and fun.

In the following pages are pictured incidents that are considered representative of the many areas in which AHS students take part. Each student pictured represents not only himself, but also the many others who enjoy these same activities.

THE LOCAL MUSIC SHOPS are a favorite haunt of all music lovers. Listening to some of the latest releases are Tom Golden, Carolyn Strand, Roger Knutson and Jayne Gannon.

AN EVENING SNACK at a local restaurant is enjoyed by Betsy Christenson and Tom Golden.

GAMES PROVE to be a leveling factor when it comes to skill. Passing the evening playing "Clue" are Karen Matison, David Beaver, and Sheldon Hess.

EXCHANGING DANCES at the annual Jobs Formal are Sandra Thorsell, Bob Edwards, Jackie Corbin, Terry Maus, Ronnie Raasch and Barbara Senjem.

SMOOTH MUSIC and original decorations provide the atmosphere for AHS mixers.

TALKING OVER ACTIVITIES of the coming day are Seniors Bob Knowlton, Beverly Walterman, and Jon Webber as they relax momentarily.

DISCUSSING MUTUAL PROBLEMS of their vocational themes are Ruth Geyer and Ken DeFor.

THE HALF-HOUR LUNCH PERIOD means that most students now eat in the cafeteria. Performing the daily chore of cleaning their trays are Lani Allen, Jerry Tracy, Tom Luther, and Doug Wilcox. Mrs. G. Lane supervises and offers assistance when needed.

THE SLAMMING OF LOCKER DOORS, hurried farewells, and plans for the evening are signs that the school day has come to a close.

HIGHLIGHTING THE CHRISTMAS social season was the Dirk & Bauble "Christmas Symphony" mixer. Shown buying goodies are Manfred Ceasar and Carol Dahler.

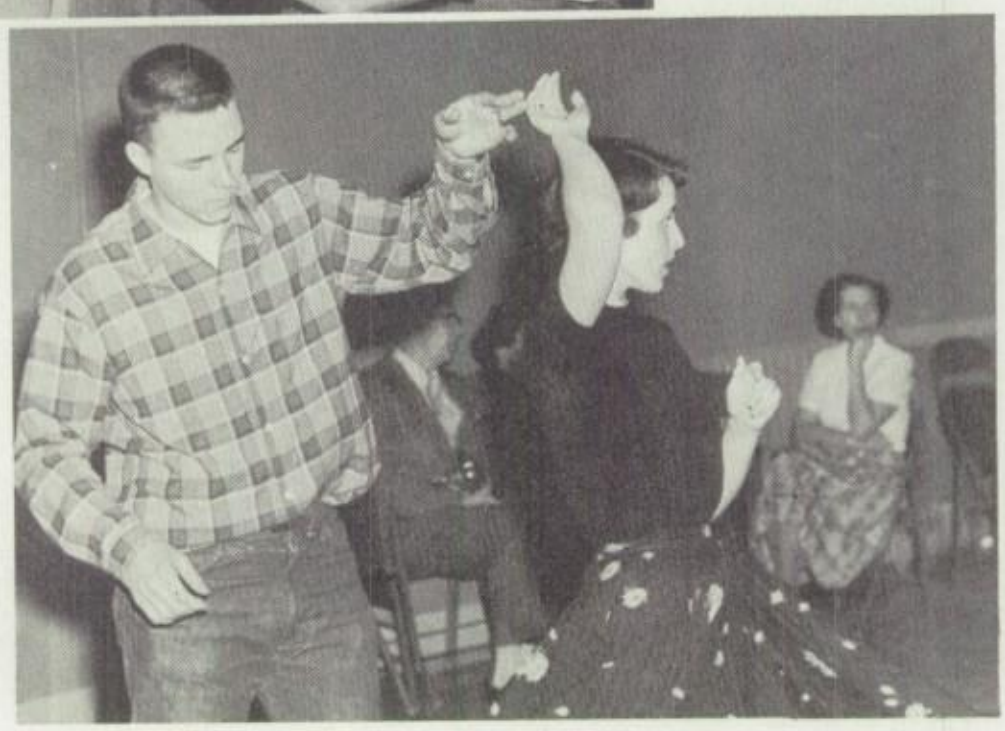
THE DENTAL SURVEY is an annual event for grades seven-ten. Karen Warfield sits patiently while her teeth are checked.

WAITING SEEMS TO BE a traditional note when convention time rolls around. Here the melancholy of the moment penetrates the composure of Gwen Colescott and ElVeda Lund.

SOMETHING ORIGINAL in the line of mixers was added at the Student Council Sock Hop. Shown trying to recover their shoes are Eugene Hildreth, Gale Hardy, and Jim Henricks.

THERE'S ONE IN EVERY CLASS ... David G. Johnson counts the minutes while Kay Quam, Kay Jordan, and Gary Dahl study.

THERE ARE THOSE who like to dance as shown by Bill Roach and Betty Plummer.



THE "SAINTS" liven up a pep assembly with their "original" renditions of several old stand bys. In the group are Lee Wilcox, Dave Toresdahl, Howie Wennis, Roger Knutson, Neil MacLaughlin, and Duane Sellers.

HUNTING IS A FAVORITE pastime for most AHS boys. Ron Carothers tries his luck in the early morning.

CAPITALIZING ON A PRESENT FAD are John Ullom, Bob Watts, Bob James, Darwin Olson, and Ronnie Raasch as they clown for the amusement of AHS students.

THERE'S ONE IN EVERY CROWD . . . El-Veda Lund takes advantage of the efforts of Shan Lillquist, Deanna Hoveland, Donna Raasch, and Joan Youngdahl.

Remember When . . .

The times pictured here have stirred our memory bringing a warmth to our hearts and a faint smile to our lips. They bring back memories of hours spent on homecoming floats and the quickening of pulses when the bounce of basketballs echoed in the gym once more. Then too, we remember that long stretch in January when studies seemed like an endless chore; WPA week when the girls footed the bills for extra large appetites; research and vocational papers which were impossible to scratch from our frustrated minds.

We recall that familiar saying "it's always party time" and you can't miss when a bunch of crazy fun loving "kids" get together - whether it be to dance, play clever games, or eat and eat and eat. When spring with all its beauty burst upon us, we looked longingly out the window imagining a golf club, a baseball game, the Prom and Graduation.

Yes, these things we'll recall when high school, our bridge to the future, is but a memory . . . when we look back and realize that these were truly golden years . . . remember when?

BEWARE IT'S LEAP YEAR is the warning ignored by Don Arnold, and Bob James as they chat with Jean Lasher and Joan Kling at the annual mixer which climaxes WPA week.

The Tender Trap Snaps...

Haid to thee tradition!
For a scant three days this year;
We celebrated WPA,
With life and light and cheer.

We polished shoes, shined up the Chev,
Toted books and ate lots of dills;
And tho' our purses approached collapse,
With much regret we paid the bills.

Wednesday night we went bowling,
Then later out to eat;
Thursday night was the movie,
And after, another treat.

The mixer and game were on Friday,
We hurried to line up a date;
After the dance — to the Bell,
Where he ate and ate and ate.

In summing up these glorious days,
With wisdom we bestow, one pearl;
Tho' dating is fun, it costs lots of mon-
So be glad little angel, you're a girl.

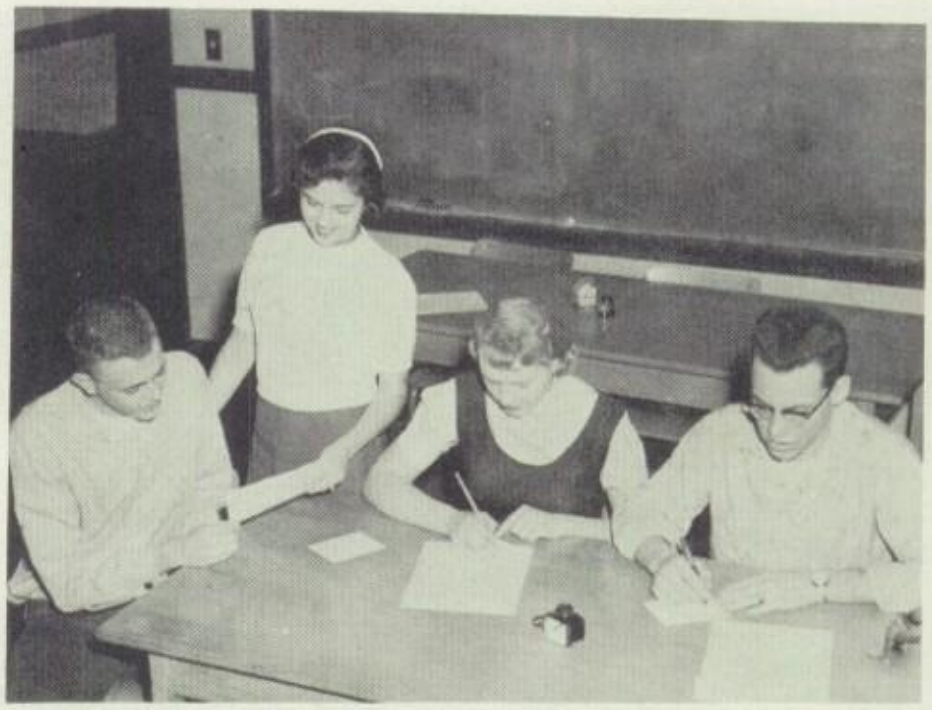
WOMEN PAY ALL is put into practice by Sharon Kautz and Jerry Jan.

Prom Planning Exciting Task

Behind any successful event are hours of planning. Before prom night arrives many Junior committees have functioned effectively. A committee has carefully selected the orchestra which is to play and another committee has efficiently written invitations to all seniors.

Many tasks are tackled by both juniors and seniors. The boys, after getting their dates, have just as much fun as the girls deciding whether to wear a dress suit or a white dinner jacket. After the girls decide what they are going to wear, they spend most of their time telling their friends about it.

After the prom is over, many happy memories return; not only of the fun at the dance, but of the gay times had in preparing for it.

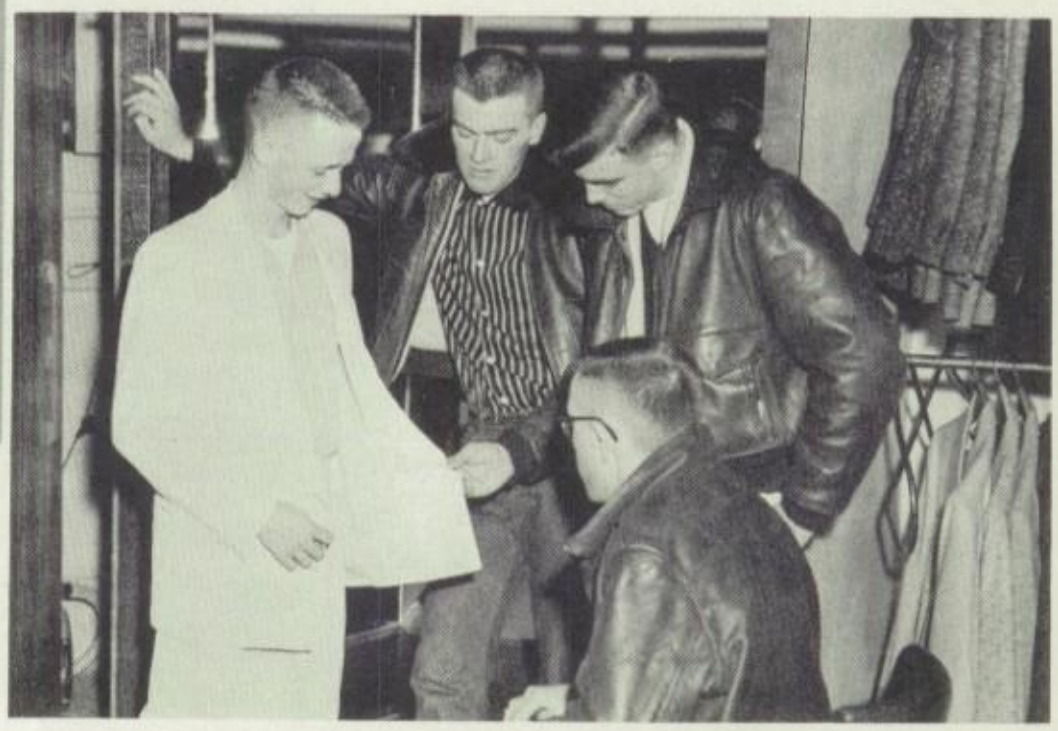


BUSILY WRITING PROM INVITATIONS to seniors are Wayne McClary, Sandra Miller, Carol Ulland and Dan James.

CHOOSING THE PROM ORCHESTRA is an important task. Sharon Spiess, Sharon Jacobson and Paul Sollie chat with Henry Charles, leader of one of the bands being considered.

DESCRIBING THEIR PROM DRESSES is a favorite topic for girls. Here Bonnie Hanson listens attentively to Shirley Christofferson as she describes her formal.

WILL IT BE A WHITE DINNER JACKET? Bill LeBarron, Bill Sayles and Jim Torrens help Bob Rugg decide.



LINING UP for the grand march are Bill Dunlap, Joan Naslund, Marvin Veverka, Peggy McLaughlin, Jack Carr, Gwen Colescott, Jon Webber, Arlette Torkelson, Tom Golden, Mary Swenson, Dick Watt and Shirley Nelson.

CONFUSION REIGNS as juniors and seniors take part in the grand march.

PAUSING BETWEEN DANCES are Joan Naslund, Bill Dunlap, Arlette Torkelson, and Jon Webber.

SIGNING PROGRAMS for the exchange of dances are Jerry Johnson, Mary Jo Guntire, Shirley Nelson, and Dick Watt.

REFRESHMENTS AND CARDS occupy the attention of Marvin Holt, Anne Hammer, Twilla Hanson and Charlotte Detwiler.

Prom Night Brings Moments To Remember

Homecoming, state tournament and classes are all part of the past. This is the day for the junior-senior prom, one of the high points of a student's high school career.

What is it that makes the prom so exclusively different? Maybe it is the fact that for the last time our classmates and friends are dancing together. With the burden of the past school year off their shoulders, their hearts are light and their hopes are high. Perhaps it is the dignity and excitement exhibited by all as they leave behind their everyday existence and put on a host of good manners, plus a desire to have an evening that will top all other evenings of the past.

To the junior it is recognition of a part in tradition; to the senior it is the culmination of his high school career in the beauty and glory that only the high school prom can give.

WEARY WORN FEET tell the tale of a well-spent evening.

WONDERING WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT, Jerry Harder looks down in amusement at Sharon McCarney and Barbara Snater.

Our Last Steps to the Will Be . . .

PAINTING THE TRADITIONAL Skip Day jalopy are Mickey Hunsey, Betsy Christianson and Elveda Lund.

GRADUATION BECOMES more of a reality as Nancy Lagerval, Bob Soiney, Calvin Stahl and Ken Thompson are measured for caps and gowns.

CULTIVATING GOOD WORK HABITS is necessary for any future plans. Mary Jo Guntire, Jean Naslund and Roger Knutson find knowing how to study is valuable in research work.

REFLECTING ON ALL that his senior year has meant, is Bob Mathias as he realizes he soon will finish his high school career.

DEMONSTRATING PARTY "KNOW HOW" acquired from four years of practice is Jim Veverka.

"And when the bridge is finished,
There is nothing to do, but cross."

We have come to the end of our bridge and we pause briefly before stepping into the future. In these moments we are remembering our wonderful years at Austin High School.
